Students stage election

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The tension is running high at Merriman Elementary School in Romulus as election time draws near. On one hand is the ticket of Reagan-Bush, while Mondale and Ferraro prepare for their role as potential usurpers.

Adding to the pressure of the situation is the fact that all four candidates are in the same social studies class, taught by Mrs. Shirley Germaine.

You see, Reagan, Bush, Mondale and Ferraro are all in the sixth grade. And, their real names are Mark Pyenta (Reagan), Brooke Hammers (Bush), Chris Vavro (Mondale) and Joan Dubanik (Ferraro).

In a unique effort to teach her students how the election process works, Germaine came up with the idea of having students represent real candidates and actively campaign, culminating in a Nov. 6 election.

First, students in grades 4-6 were allowed to register to vote. No registration, no vote.

Vote for me!

There have been speeches, debates and conventions, posters, campaign buttons and hands shaken.

Campaign managers Scott Boslet and Chad Filek have done their best to keep the campaign hot, bolstering their candidates support.

"This started off to be a class project for my social studies class," said Germaine, "but it's evolved into something much larger, almost a school-wide project."

Who will emerge victorious? No one knows, at least not yet.

"Our election will be on Nov. 6, the same as the real presidential campaign. And, the children will have the results before they leave school, so they'll be able to compare the results at home," Germaine added.

"It's a fun thing, but I think they're learning a lot, too."

Council OK's development plan for city

Despite protests and concerns voiced by citizens during a 1 hour, 15-minute public hearing, the city council last Monday approved Romulus' involvement in the Tax Increment Finance Authority (TIFA). The vote was 5-1-1, with Councilman Junior Block casting the only "no" vote and Jimmie Raspberry abstaining.

TIFA, also known as Public Act 450 of 1980, was signed into law by former Gov. William Milliken and is designed to "provide a redevelopment financing tool for cities throughout the state which suffer the effects of urban deterioration such as physical blight, declining tax base and unemployment," according to the Michigan Department of Commerce. The amount of tax increment revenue available for a particular redevelopment project is determined by multiplying the total tax rate of the city by the projected increase (over a two-year period) in assessed valuation.

The purpose of the program is to encourage economic growth in the city, which would in turn stimulate employment and provide a bigger tax base, according to Romulus Community Planning developer Richard Viskochil.

The vast majority of those present for the public hearing left the council chambers during a recess prior to the start of the regular council meeting, and many of them seemed unaware that the council would vote on the issue that night.

Questions from the crowd were mostly of the cynical variety, and many expressed displeasure at the prospect of welcoming TIFA into the community.

"Taxes will not go up," said Viskochil. "The name of the program is somewhat confusing to people. It sounds like it will raise taxes in increments, which it won't."

According to statements read by council members, TIFA will "encourage economic growth without placing a tax burden on the citizens, to build public improvements that are essential for business development to occur."

With TIFA, areas that may not be desirable to business because of unpaved roads and poor or no sewer systems can be upgraded to draw businesses. Tax increment revenues may only be used for public purposes, said Viskochil, and "corporations aren't directly helped, but since the act induces them to build in Romulus, it helps the city."

Viskochil said that with TIFA, he "would not recommend the city council to give tax abatements to new developments in the program boundaries." Tax abatements, which induce businesses to build or remodel by removing them from the tax rolls for periods up to 12 years, have been a point of concern with some residents lately, who have complained that the council hands them out too freely.

Junior Block, who cast the lone "no" vote, said he "was not happy with the answers (provided by planning consultants Dennis Meagher and Sally Hodges). I think it affects too wide of an area and needs more clarification," said Block. "It could affect schools and millages down the road."

"It's got its good points, but it's got some bad ones too ... there's a few bugs in it," said Block.

There was a full house last Monday night as concerned citizens attended a public hearing where their questions regarding the Tax Increment Finance Authority were fielded by representatives of two community planning management agencies in the employ of the city. Afterwards, council voted to adopt the plan.

Carey vs. Dugan for supervisor

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

What looked to be a one-race election has suddenly doubled in size with the announcement that Huron Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey will be running as a write-in candidate for the supervisor's position against Ralph Dugan, who defeated the current supervisor, A.J. Haener if the August primary.

Earlier this year, Carey participated in the election for state representative, which was declared void because of the redistricting controversy. In September she was defeated in her bid for re-election in the Huron Township primary by Doris Davis by three votes.

According to Carey, this latest bid to run wasn't her idea.

"About 50 of my supporters got together and decided that the residents should have a choice (Dugan is otherwise unopposed) in the election, and then came to me and asked me if I would be willing," she explained.

"I told them yes, but added that the campaign would be in their hands because I'm busy right now in the clerk's position, and they agreed."

Dugan easily won the primary election against two fellow Democrats, incumbent A.J. Haener and Harold Ashby in August, and says he feels no real threat from Carey's bid.

"It doesn't look very hopeful for her, at least that's my opinion," said Dugan. "She's run for three different offices so far this year — I think that may be some kind of record."

Both candidates expressed the hope that more of Huron Township's 6,000 registered voters will come out of the polls Nov. 6. In August, less than one-fifth cast their ballots, making it one of the slowest voter turnouts in the township's history.

While admitting she "would be very honored" to win the seat for supervisor, Carey said, "and I've been hearing good things. A lot of it will depend on the turnout at the polls. I know I would do a good job if I am elected."

Dugan says he wants to "dispel any myths" that he doesn't really want the supervisor job.

"If I didn't want it, I never would have ran for it," he says. "I want this position, and from what I can tell, the people of this town want a change, and they're going to get it."

When asked to comment on rumors that he was planning to file a court injunction against Carey, claiming a possible tampering of ballots, Dugan was noncommittal, claiming that "there's something wrong when a clerk that has been defeated is handling the absentee ballots, especially when she is herself involved again in the election."

According to Carey though, that kind of talk is going around "because some people want to try and discredit me. I never touch the absentee ballots, the deputy clerk does. When we took the sealed ballots — and they are sealed — to the post office, I wouldn't even carry them in, I had someone else do it. And these people (who allegedly are spreading the rumors) know this very well, but I guess they like to sling mud."

7 charged in rest stop raid

Michigan State Police have finalized six of the seven warrants on the men most recently arrested at the rest area located at I-275 and Cherry Hill in Canton Township for alleged homosexual activity.

These latest arrests took place Oct. 18 during the third undercover "sting" operation undertaken by state troopers at the rest stop since Sept. 20. This brings the total to 31 men arrested for "obscene behavior in a public place" and disorderly conduct.

One of those arrested was Bates Henry Landis, 59, a resident of Canton and former administrator with the Taylor school system until his retirement in June of 1983. Landis plead guilty during his preliminary examination Monday and is scheduled for sentencing Jan. 8.

Since both charges against those arrested are misdemeanors, the maximum they could receive is a $100 fine and 90 days in jail.

Another of those arrested was Peter Deane, who reportedly told police he was a retired teacher and lab technician from the Wixom school district, but records there failed to verify that. Deane is 37 years old.

Also arrested were Glen Walker, 28, a typesetter from Garden City; Anthony Campagna, 43, a salesman from Canton; Frederick Miller, 38, a Wayne factory worker; John Radke, 46, employed in "Erbin Revitalization" in Detroit. The name of the seventh man is expected to be released later this week.

Of those arrested in September, Richard Buerk, 41, principal of Stevenson Junior High in Westland, has had a bench trial set for Nov. 26. Phillip Jenkins, vice-president of the Detroit Center for Creative Studies, will be back in court for trial on Dec. 20. The rest of the preliminary examinations for those arrested in September will be on Nov. 8 in 35th District Court in Canton.

Of the total 31 men arrested, nine of them are currently or had previously worked in the education field.

Lyons and Davis campaign for Huron clerk's position

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The race for Huron Township clerk was the only race not decided (prior to Mary Lou Carey's write-in campaign for supervisor) in the August primary, since candidate Vicky Lyons is the only Republican that filed for office. Her opponent is Doris Davis, a Democrat who defeated incumbent Carey by three votes.

Lyons, 30, has attended "all but two or three" township board meetings in the last two years, she says, and has been a resident of Huron for 10 years.

"Going to the meetings," Lyons said, "it has seemed to me that the citizens aren't really listened to when they speak up, and I don't think that's right. If elected I'll strive for more interaction between the community and its residents."

"It seems to me, that if someone takes the time and trouble to come to a meeting, they should be treated with more respect than I've seen a lot of people get," Lyons said.

Lyons first became well-known in the township when she headed up the Huron Valley Citizens Association, a large group which has been — at least in part — responsible for keeping the infamous "airport" landfill out of Huron.

Davis, who is currently working as a computer operator but has a legal background, says that she is "looking forward to working with the new township board, because you can't really separate township issues (into 'clerk' issues)."

"I think the people made it very clear in the (August) election that they want to see a broad change in local government," Davis said.

Davis says that although she hasn't been at "a lot" of board meetings she "has been involved in township issues for years and is currently chairperson of the Zoning Board. "Simply being at the meetings doesn't indicate understanding, any more than my not being at meetings indicates I haven't been interested. It just means that I've been working full time afternoon shifts."

Davis maintains that she has a large support group "which has grown since the primary" and has a "good, overall view of the township and its workings."

Lyons says she "has been getting a very good response" from her door-to-door campaign, and says she is hoping for a large voter turnout, "which I think would be good for me, but would really be good for the community, to get out and become involved."

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Thomas Anderson
TIGHT, STIFF MUSCLES
Everyday activities often "knot" your muscles. Pain fibers in muscle nerves of your middle and lower spine become irritated and contract further. This can lead to structural problems. Symptoms range from backaches to shoulder pain and "tight" muscles.

Your chiropractor will prescribe a program to correct any spinal subluxations or misalignments and ease nerve pressure. A diagnostic exam locates the cause of your stiffness. Gentle spinal adjustments offer fast and permanent relief.

A multi-pronged approach by your doctor of chiropractic helps ease stiffness of the hip muscles, the hamstring muscles of thighs and upper legs, and the congested muscles of the lower leg.

Debunking the myth

The following is the second in a series of stories on tax assessments, reassessments, Board of Review, Tax Tribunal and other matters related to the levying of taxes within the City of Romulus.

Many people believe the myth that the Assessor can raise assessments to increase tax revenues, so that the city does not have to increase the millage rate.

Does the assessor have the power to raise taxes?

No! If assessors could raise tax dollars as many people think they can, then assessors would be the most powerful people in local government, and all the city councils, mayors, county commissioners and administrators would come to the assessor to see how much money they could raise. However, it just doesn't work that way.

There are two new state acts that recently went into effect, beginning with the 1982 tax year. I would like to briefly explain both of these acts.

First, there is Act 213, P.A. 1981, known as the "Truth in Assessing Rollback." The purpose of this rollback is to encourage assessors to assess property to 50 percent of the true cash value as required by law.

The way it works is, if the total final overall "state equalized value" (SEV) exceeds the city's "assessed value" (AV) then the maximum authorized tax rate is reduced so that the total city property tax revenue will not exceed that which would have been derived from the AV.

The SEV is a result of the state multiplying the AV by an "equalization factor." So, in essence, if the assessor's assessed values are factored, the city must roll back the millage rate, so that it cannot benefit from the increase from the AV to the SEV.

The other Act is Act 5, P.A.

1982, known as the "Truth in Taxation Rollback." This Act requires that the operating millage rate levied in the prior year must be rolled back in proportion to the increase in the current year's SEV. This rolled back millage rate is referred to as the "base tax rate". The city cannot levy a rate higher than the base tax rate without a "Notice of Public Hearing on Increasing Property Taxes" being published in the newspaper, a public hearing taking place, and city council voting on the increase between the base tax rate and the tax rate being requested.

Therefore, the city is unable to realize an increase in property tax revenue unless the citizens are afforded a hearing and it is approved by city council.

So, there are two separate checks on the city. One is to be sure that the assessor is doing his job and not purposely deriv-

Breaking ground

EPA files charges against firm

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Region V, announced last week that they have filed a civil administrative action against PBM Enterprises of Romulus.

The complaint against PBM proposes a penalty of $62,250 and charges that the facility — located at 10100 Harrison — violated Federal regulations regarding the generation and storage of hazardous waste contained in the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act.

PBM Enterprises allegedly has failed to meet particular requirements of RCRA relating to the accumulation of hazardous waste for a period greater than 90 days without interim status or a permit, and has stored the hazardous waste in an environmentally unsafe manner, charges the EPA.

PBM Enterprises has the right to request that the EPA hold a settlement conference and a hearing to discuss the charges. The company must make such a request by November 15, 1984.

World of winners

Sunshine and lots of smiles marked the 1984 "Special Olympics" held at the Taylor Living Center for the Developmentally Disabled.

About 10 residents from the facility located at 4427 Venoy Road, Wayne, joined with about 20 residents from the Taylor Living Center for the Developmentally Disabled, 22950 Northline Road, for the recent fun-filled Saturday. The residents at these facilities are severely to profoundly retarded.

Donning purple shirts that read "A World of Winners," Living Center Special Olympics, residents, volunteers from the community and staff members started off the festivities by releasing balloons with each participant's name and address in it. The resident whose balloon message is returned first will be provided with a special treat.

The games were handled by several community groups that enthusiastically volunteered their time and services. Livonia Welding Supply donated the helium. The Freewill

Baptist church members and clown were terrific. They arranged the games, presented medals and made a lot of the residents happy.

Planning, scheduling and overall coordination of the big event was done by Helen Willis and Debbie Bray, activities directors at Wayne and Taylor. The staff members at each facility had some additional fun when the Wayne employees challenged the Taylor employees to a tug of war. They gave one big yank and that was it, Wayne lost the competition.

While there were winners of gold, silver, and bronze medals in each of the events, everyone received participant awards. And whether residents won or not was not as important as the fact that they had fun.

On hand to cheer the residents on to victory were the administrators and assistant administrators from both facilities.

Beyer hosts testing

Beyer Memorial Hospital will participate with the American Diabetes Association to offer free diabetes tests, Tuesday, Nov. 13, Wednesday, Nov. 14, and Thursday, Nov. 15.

Testing will be open to the general public from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. The screenings will be held in the hospital's front lobby.

Beyer Memorial Hospital is located at 135 S. Prospect, Ypsilanti.

Diabetes screening consists of a simple blood test. Results are not given at the test site. If diabetic conditions are found, those persons will be notified by mail.

Diabetes testing is not intended for people already diagnosed as diabetics nor is it encouraged for people under the age of 18. The American Diabetes Association recommends participation by people who have experienced any of the following symptoms: excessive thirst, blurred vision, frequent urination or rapid weight loss.

For best results, a meal high in carbohydrates with large amounts of starches and sugars should be eaten two hours before the test. Breakfast could be fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, and two slices of unbuttered toast with jelly. Those planning to take the test in the afternoon should eat a lunch of soup, sandwich, pie and a glass of milk. Nothing else should be eaten before the test.

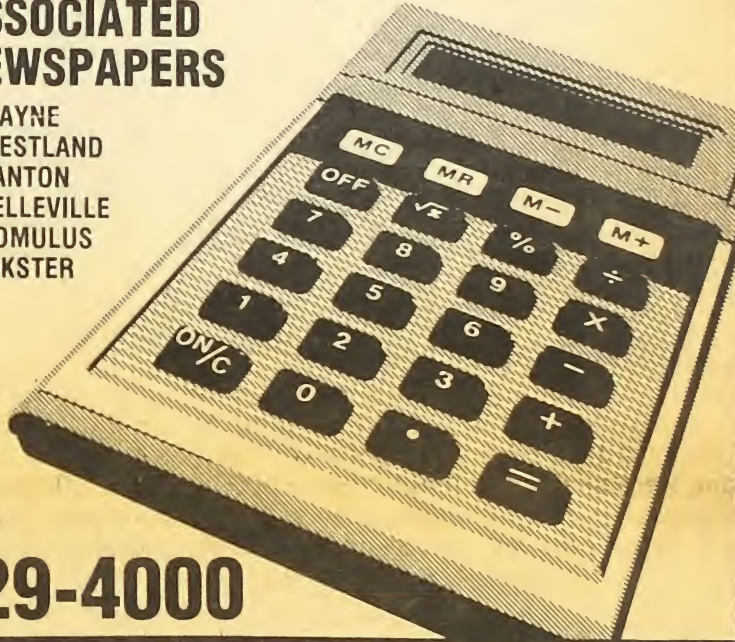

The tests are important in discovering the estimated 200,000 people in Michigan who have diabetes, but are unaware of their illness.

'Working Circle' begins group sessions for unemployed

By CHRISTINE RIZK
Special to ANP

Unemployed workers will find more than reading material in the library when "A Working Circle" begins its group sessions Monday, Oct. 29.

Designed to ease workers back into the marketplace through job search training the program will assist a group of 6-15 members every Monday and Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon in job search strategies, survival needs, employability skills, resume writing, as well as provide counseling, medical and legal information.

"A Working Circle" is an extension of the Communication and Information system for the Unemployed (CISU), a state-sponsored program.

"It is a very sophisticated concept," Veronica Johnson, the city's library director said. "It would help anyone because it is tailored to their specific needs."

Begun this past spring in other communities, "A Working Circle" is the first program for the unemployed available in this area, according to Johnson.

The Inkster library and the Henry Ford Centennial Library are the only sites currently available to the residents.

Participants will not only receive technical advice from trained facilitators, in this case, Johnson, but can view current Michigan Employment Security Commission microfiche job listings or job search telecasts on the Working Channel.

The channel, on WTVS (Channel 56) is part of the CISU program aimed at dispensing information to the unemployed via the television medium.

Job search telecasts are available four times daily. Themes such as the MESC job show, which explains the commission's offerings, the Labor Hour, which deals with a live panel discussion of labor issues, and Survival Tip Line, designed to announce programs available in health, housing, transportation and utility assistance, are features.

The participant's marketable skills will be highlighted in the sessions and emphasis will be placed on volunteer work as a means of gaining full-time employment.

"We cannot guarantee them a job but we're going to do our best to put them in a position of confidence to go out and find a job," Johnson said.

According to Kathleen Bruton, CISU Supervisor for Wayne County, placing the participant in the right frame of mind for job hunting is important.

"We have to build on motivation necessary to allow them to go out and do these things," she explained. "The basic belief is that seeking a job is a job in itself

"The basic belief is that seeking a job is a job in itself and regular hours should be put into it."

— Kathleen Bruton

and regular hours should be put into it."

The goal of CISU and subsequently, "A Working Circle" is to get the appropriate information to people in a timely fashion, according to Bruton.

In an effort to meet this aim, CISU recruited private industries to participate in their program—the UAW is one such organization that provides retraining in cooperation with Ford and GM for laid off workers.

Approximately 25-30 Working Circles are now operating in Southeastern Michigan.

The project's effectiveness has yet to be gauged since it is still in its infancy but records indicate that more than 100 unemployed workers have been serviced through the program in other cities.

Unemployed, or even underemployed, workers, are welcomed to join the group by registering at the library or calling 563-1144.

A maximum of 15 participants will be accepted in a group.

“We cannot guarantee them a job, but we’re going to do our best to put them in a position of confidence to go out and find a job.”

BPW has surprise evening

The monthly dinner meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) was held on Oct. 8 at the Faith United Methodist Church.

Prior to dinner, and following the recitation of the Club Collect, the "surprise" of the evening was revealed.

The annual "Women of the Year", award was announced, and presented to the president, Sophie Zoller.

was on hand, to tape the program for a later showing.

The accolade was a complete surprise, to Zoller, and her nephew, Ted Smolinski, was there, to share the joy. Her husband, Harry, and daughter, Pam, were unable to be present, due to work obligations and university commitments.

Following dinner, an informative program was presented. Marianna Kopazz, president of the League of Women Voters of Ann Arbor, notified the group of the three proposals — A, B and C — that will appear on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Kopazz explained in detail these proposals and told of the devastation that could occur, in Michigan, if Proposal C is passed. There was a question and answer period, following her speech.

A new member, Sharron Russell, was inducted into membership.

Omnicom Cable TV was on hand, to film the program for a later showing.

Arrangements for the October meeting, were made by the Woman of the Year and Business Women's Week committee — Evelyn Lauber, chair, Ruth Davis and Georgia Badgett.

Emphasis was placed on three coming events. The BPW fashion show on Oct. 20 at the Brass Connection, in Belleville, will be a large money-making event for the annual scholarships of BPW.

On Oct. 29 will be the Belleville Community Blood Drive at Belleville High School auditorium, sponsored annually by the BPW, as a community project.

Oct. 21-27, the Belleville BPW will be celebrating National Business Women's Week. Members will be having breakfast together on Sunday, Oct. 21, and will then attend the Martha Mary Chapel of the Presbyterian Church to worship together.

On Oct. 3, 18 members attended the BPW District XIII meeting at the Stinson Center of Great Lakes Steel, in Ecorse.

Following dinner District XIII Director Bonnie Pavlat conducted the business meeting.

Guest speaker was past state president and past national president of BPW, Phyllis Harrison of Warren. She emphasized the Long-Range programming for BPW at national, state, district and local club levels. The BPW mission is "to promote full participation, equity, economic and self-sufficiency for all working women."

WOM honors Bekker

The Women of the Moose Chapter 1135 of Belleville recently honored a very special lady, Joyce Bekker.

Twelve dolls, depicting her involvement in the Moose chapter, were displayed, each with a story of its own, and representing an important time in her life.

The dolls were designed and made by Betty Moody, while the staircase that they were arranged on was the work of Max Koeppe, who also made banners for the event. A large banner was the work of the graphic artists at the Ypsilanti Press.

A skit was presented to Bekker by her co-workers and dignitaries in attendance, including Betty VanHeek, past grand regent, Dorothy Devenney, past member of the grand council Myrtle Havens, past dean of the International Academy of Friendship Board, Frieda Palermo, also a past dean of the friendship board, Bernice Kali, past member of the College of Regents (international), Sophie Barns, past deputy grand regent of Bay City, Kathryn Kimble, past deputy grand regent from Kalamazoo, Marianne Friend, past deputy grand regent from Kalamazoo, Marianne Price, past deputy grand regent from Wyandotte, Georgia Beardsley, past deputy grand regent from Grand Rapids.

Sparta, Betty Wright, past deputy grand regents from Ypsilanti, Vivian Devolder, past deputy grand regent from Coldwater, and Karen Piper, Deputy Grand regent from Otsego.

Representatives from 17 chapters from Michigan and Ohio were in attendance. Forty-two colleagues also attended the gathering, which included a ham and scalloped potato dinner.

"There were a lot of great ladies there, but you, Joyce Bekker are the greatest," a spokesperson said.

Four women were enrolled in the chapter at the meeting. They were Cynthia Johnson, Faith Udovich, Dorothy Maliszewski and Virginia Weishuhm.

Past activities for the chapter have included a chapter meeting on Oct. 8, a business meeting on Oct. 22 and several officers meetings.

Oct. 21 was Green Cap Day in Saginaw for 44 women from throughout the state. Belleville chapter member Beverly Hall was among those to receive a green cap. Her capping officer was Annabelle Sobolewski. Hall will be honored for her hard work on her special day, planned for Nov. 25. Registration will be at 1 p.m., with the meeting to start at 2 p.m. Members and guests are urged to attend to help make it a grand day for her.

Dinner will follow the meeting.

October has been the month for members to get their Christmas gifts for Mooseheart and Moosehaven.

Upcoming chapter dates include a chapter meeting at 8 p.m. Nov. 12, the Beverly Hall Green Cap Day on Nov. 25 and a business meeting at 8 p.m. Nov. 26.

Study Club to host open house

The GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club, in conjunction with the GFWC Brighton Area Junior Women's Club, will host the annual "ingathering" open house at Girlstown, located at 11875 Quirk Road, Belleville, from 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 3.

Girlstown, which is owned and operated

Approximately 500 clubwomen, public officials, and dignitaries are expected to attend this traditional event. Once a year, Girlstown opens its doors to the general public to provide to them an opportunity to view first-hand the unique program in operation there for teen-aged girls. Founded in 1958, Girlstown continues to provide a home and guidance to girls aged 12 through 16.

Wayne County Road Commission goes 'out of business'

The record will show that the gavel fell for the last time at 10:12 a.m. on Oct. 22, 1984.

That sharp sound, echoing through the crowded eighth-floor conference room at 415 Clifford St. signalled the termination of the meeting — and the existence — of the Wayne County Road Commission, an agency which had been a fixture in Michigan since 1906.

The Road Commission, with approximately 900 employees and a budget of roughly $150 million, will now be divided into organized departments under the jurisdiction of Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

Lucas, who was present at the meeting, said citizens would begin noticing improvements immediately.

"Money for administration and management will be deemphasized," said Lucas. "More resources will be focused on services to the public."

As the Road Commission was officially transferring jurisdiction over county roads, parks, airports, streets, bridges, trucks, equipment, materials and supplies; Lucas was nominating division directors.

Lucas named Road Commission Managing Director William Oakley to head the Roads Division. Metro-Airport Director Timothy Ward was named Acting Director of the Airports Division and R. Eric Reickel was chosen to direct Parks and Recreation.

These divisions will fall under the jurisdiction of a new Wayne County Office of Public Services. Lucas indicated that he is conducting a nationwide search for the "absolute best individual to fill this demanding position."

The public services director would automatically become an assistant county executive and would eventually also have control over drains and public works, according to the county's reorganization plan.

"This represents a victory for the people," said Lucas, alluding to the fact that the Wayne County electorate overwhelmingly voted to abolish the Road Commission in the Aug. 7 primary election.

The action culminated a long-standing battle between Lucas, and the Road Commission, a board which had gained a reputation over the years, for autonomy, nepotism, cronyism and bloated salaries.

Executive Lucas fulfilled a campaign promise by dismissing the incumbent Road Commissioners the first day he took office — Jan. 1, 1983. That order sparked a series of court battles and rejected appointments until Lucas finally prevailed in July 1984. The last three Commissioners to serve, Dr. Janice Frazier, Teresa Pulido and Harold Popp, Jr., were all Lucas appointees, who handed over the reins to the County Executive last week.

Many of the anticipated reform measures have already begun. The Road Commission work force has been reduced by 215 people since February, and all Road Commission operations are undergoing review.

Lucas presented the incumbents with Distinguished Service Awards and noted: "This is an historic occasion. It seldom occurs that the people have an opportunity to eliminate a government agency which has outlived its usefulness. We now have an obligation to streamline these services, to make the most efficient use of taxpayer dollars."

Medical center marks anniversary

In celebration of its 10th anniversary its present location, the Oakwood Hospital Family Medical Center, 19130 Sumpter Road, Sumpter Township, will be hosting "Health Awareness Week" Monday through Friday, Nov. 5-9, from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

As a service to the community, the center will be offering cost-free health tests, social services counseling, nutrition and diet counseling, and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) classes, as well as literature and films on a variety of health topics.

"We are proud of our 10-year commitment at this location and we want the people of the community and our patients to share in our pride and join us in this celebration," said Gerald Banish, M.D., associate director, Family Practice Residency Program, Department of Medical Education, Oakwood Hospital, and director of the Family Medical Center.

"As providers of continuing comprehensive care for all age groups, we want the people to be aware of what we have to offer," Banish said.

The health tests will include those for blood pressure, vision, and blood. The blood test measures liver and kidney function, blood sugar, and cholesterol levels.

"The best blood test results are obtained if food has not been eaten for eight hours prior to the test," according to Earnestine Hatcher, administrative director of Laboratory Services at Oakwood. However, she added, fasting is not absolutely necessary, but it is helpful to know the time of the last meal.

A dietitian will be available for nutrition and diet counseling by appointment during the special week.

The opportunity to consult with a staff social worker on such matters as eligibility for Medicaid or information on various support groups that are available within the community also will be offered by appointment and free of charge.

CPR "Heart Saver" classes, offered to local businesses and their employees, will be held Wednesday, Nov. 7, from 1 to 4 p.m. by certified instructors.

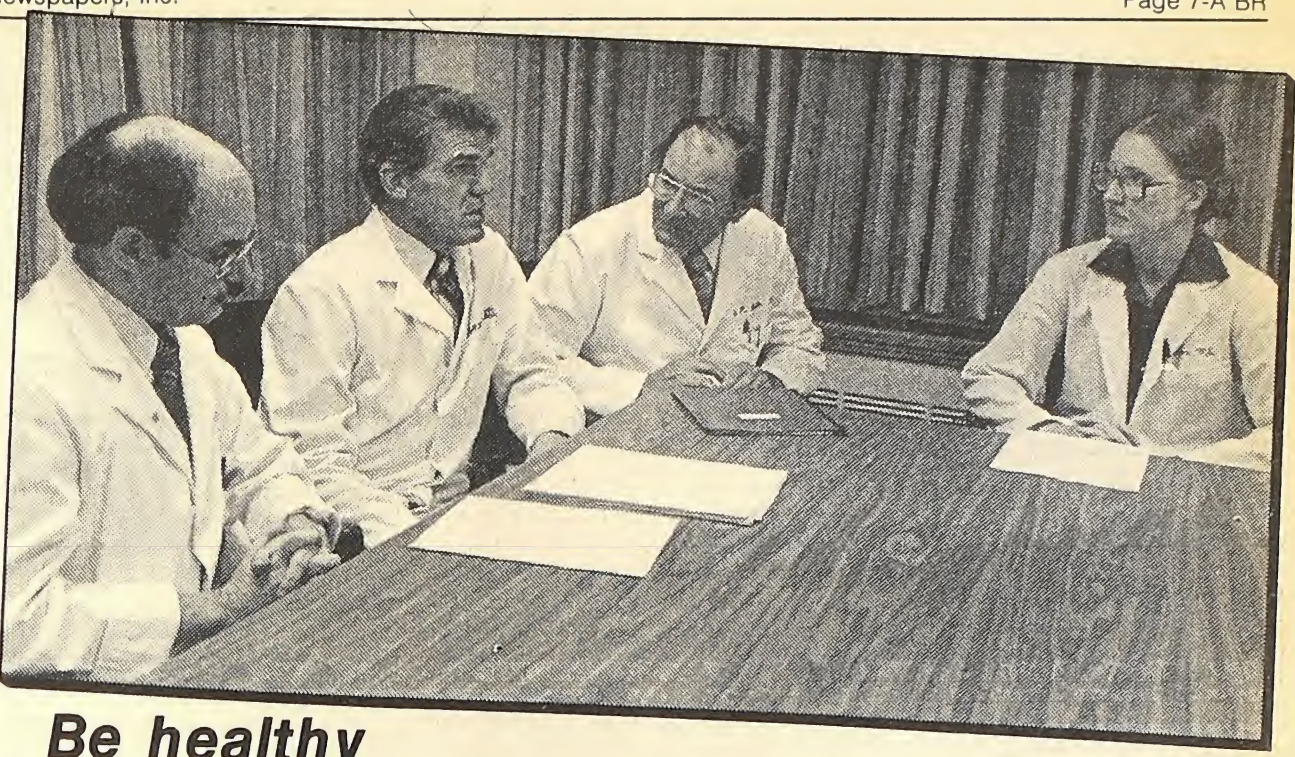

There will be display material and literature on maternal and child health, high blood pressure, cancer, diabetes, heart disease, and smoking. Educational films will feature such topics as the heart, lungs, CPR, and diabetes. Refreshments will be served.

"As part of the celebration of the 10th anniversary, we invite the residents of Sumpter and Belleville to visit the center during our 'Health Awareness Week,'" said David Ippel, assistant administrator, Oakwood Hospital, and manager of the Family Medical Center.

"We have enjoyed a warm relationship with our many friends of all ages in the community during the past 10 years and extend to them our warm welcome and hopes for continued good health," he added.

Staffed with four full-time Family Practice physician faculty members of Oakwood's Medical Education Department and 18 family practice resident physicians, the center provides medical, surgical, and mental health care services which include obstetrics and gynecology and pediatrics, as well as adult medicine.

Support services include dietary and social services counseling and psychiatric intervention. The center also provides diagnostic X-ray and laboratory services. The center offers a sliding fee scale tailored to ability to pay, as well as participation in Blue Cross Blue

As part of the celebration, cost-free health tests and activities will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The center will be offering blood pressure, vision and blood tests, as well as social services counseling, nutrition and diet counseling, and cardiopulmonary resuscitation classes. Shield, Medicare, and Medicaid.

"The Family Medical Center is a fixture in this community. It provides significant family oriented medical care and we are looking forward to a long association here," said John Battle, M.D., director, Family Practice Residency Program, Oakwood Hospital.

Since the facility opened in 1974, the number of patient visits has increased approximately four times. From January to September of this year 6,519 patients visited the center.

Campaign '84: Our choices

Campaign '84 will soon become Election '84 as voters go to the polls next Tuesday to decide the fate not only of various candidates for public offices but also of several and local ballot proposals.

It has proven to be a vigorous and issue-oriented campaign on the federal, state and local levels. And while the presidential debating and posturing attracts much of the attention, the election of area representatives and local community leaders will have as much or more impact on life in Western Wayne County during the next few years.

As election day nears we have two requests of the electorate:

1) Please vote. The ability to participate in the democratic process is among the greatest rights we possess as Americans. Instead of post-election complaining about the inadequacies of government, citizens must learn to take a positive approach to the voting booth, where an opportunity to improve the quality of life exists.

2) Take the time to get acquainted with the candidates and issues. An informed electorate is best equipped to make decisions based on fact rather than emotion or strictly political party line.

Following is a list of our recommendations for Nov. 6:

International intrigue...

Espionage, conspiracy, murder ... stuff of the latest spy thriller? No, topics taken right from the pages of the newspapers of our day.

"Second gunman hit Pope in '81 ..." the Saturday Free Press headlines boldly asserted. This latest report concerning the attempt on the life of Pope John Paul is not unique. "Iranian hostages ..." "Reagan shot," "Israel Olympic athletes held," "Bobby Kennedy murdered," "President killed in Dallas," "Rev. King gunned down," ... all these are now part of our history.

Currently we read of war, spying, anti-government rebels and the CIA in Nicaragua and throughout Central America. Then we have the Mafia disclosures in Italy and the John Paul II conspiracy.

Basic journalism teaches, "Who, what, how, where, when and why" and get it all in the first paragraph. The answers to those questions when directed to the aforementioned incidents will probably never really be known. Often, an individual or a small group is offered up in answer to the outcry for justice. Consider Oswald, Sirhan Sirhan, General Ver of the Philippines and his underlings in the murder of Marcos' political foe, Benigno Aquino.

We describe the individuals or groups "brought to justice" as radicals, insane, terrorists or obsessed. Let us remember, however, that people do things for reasons. We may consider the "reasons" illogical, deviate, insane or irrational, but let me suggest that they all had a reason, and it made sense to those involved.

There exists a world into which most of us will never gain, I fear, significant insight. That world holds answers. Answers as to whether those now infamous perpetrators did truly "act alone", were simply "insane" or were representing other "interests", identities unknown.

We don't really have to look for suspects when it comes to other "interests" ... how about the KGB? Mafia? PLO? IRA? They all wear black hats, right? Well, you might even try looking at a few of the guys who wear white (well, maybe gray) hats, too, like the CIA, FBI, OPEC, the World Bank and several well-known international corporations.

What, we might ask, are those interests? That's easy. Try money, profit, investments, power, influence and control.

Perhaps it would be best if freedom of speech did not exist. Perhaps we don't really want to know of international intrigue ... too depressing, too frightening, too threatening and very unsettling. Why don't we just accept at face value the public statements issued by world leaders, both ours and theirs.

Consider how many find the revelations concerning the involvement of Bulgaria, the Soviet Union and citizens of Turkey in the attempt on the life of the Pope embarrassing and threatening. Certainly it's disturbing to the interests of many.

I'm reminded of my brief conversation with the ambassador to the United States from Lebanon. As part of the government affairs conference in Washington a few years ago, we were invited to visit the Lebanese embassy. I asked, before the Lebanese group, about the death of young President Amin Genayel's brother in a then-recent assassination. The answer I received was vague and political.

Later, I cornered the ambassador and pressed the subject. While his public answer had been that, "an investigation was underway," and they "did not know" who was responsible, privately, one on one, he confessed that his government knew who was involved, but that they could not afford to confront them amidst their struggle for stability.

There seems always to be the story ... and then the real story.

The Warren Commission says Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone. How many believe that? We sold the Panama Canal to promote harmony in the region. It had nothing to do with banking interests or the design to build a new canal through Nicaragua, right? Right.

People do things for reasons. That includes individuals, assassins and governments. Too often, the reasons are to protect interests which most of us know very little about. Without a dedicated, free press, we most certainly never will.

It is not my desire or intent to encourage a "Communist under every rock" type of mind set, nor to add to the mistrust pollsters have spoken of regarding all of societies' leaders. I do not advocate face-value acceptance of statements and explanations of "off-

Police plea

To the Editor:

I would like to address an issue which is not Democrat or Republican but is the present and future safety of the community in which we live. This is critical to the growth of our community and our ability to promote Van Buren Township.

Two years ago, the township board decided to develop and expand a professional police department. Over the past two years, numerous accomplishments have been made. Some of these are as follows: Cars have been put back together and are on patrol, officers now have complete uniforms, policies and procedures have been established, a chain of command has been established, training for the officers has been implemented and a professional full service police department now provides service to the township residents and businesses 24 hours a day.

However, over the past two years, the department has experienced a 72 percent increase in the demand for service and demand for additional enforcement on Belleville Lake; and presently operates on only a $344,000 budget to cover this township of 36 square miles and nearly 20,000 residents. As the amount of crime continues to rise so do the costs of fighting that crime.

The cost of a police car has increased nearly $4,300 in the last 4 years and we presently have three marked patrol cars with over 100,000 miles which need to be replaced. Radios are old and in need of replacement and additional personnel are needed to handle the increase in demand for service. Twelve of the present 18 officers are part-time and can work an average of about only 20 hours per week. Training of officers is critical and costs money in order to provide the level of service needed.

The purpose of the 1 mill is to supplement the present budget for which there is no specific police funding, thus allowing us to achieve a level of service which has been needed for many years. For too long, we have approached law enforcement from a corrective view, with this increase, we may use a preventative approach and, hopefully, over time reduce our costs but improve our service to you.

The Van Buren Township Police Department is your police department and has been tailor-made to meet this community's specific needs. This police department is only as good as you the people make it. Our ability to provide the necessary services to protect your family, your home, your business, your lake and your community depends upon your support.

We please urge your support on Tuesday, November 6, 1984. Help us help you. Thank you.

LEONARD P. KELLER,
Chief of Police,
Van Buren

Not the answer

To the Editor:

How often we find ourselves saying we don't have time for some good cause while we make time for sporting events or whatever we want to do? How easily we convince ourselves that taxes are killing us while we watch cassette movies on our color TVs or spend large amounts of money on our own pleasure? How sincere we try to sound when we say we can't inform ourselves thoroughly on all the issues and candidates in the upcoming election when we find plenty of time afterwards to complain about government?

Anyone who is described even partially by the above should vote "NO" on Proposal "C," as this proposal is an unwise attempt to achieve in government what we can't achieve in our personal lives.

If we can't find time to gain a thorough understanding of issues and candidates in a biennial election, how in the world are we going to determine complicated tax issues applying to the governing of nine million people? If we can't force ourselves to invest our time and money for the greater good, how in the world are we going to make sure that schools, libraries, public health and public safety will receive priority on the reduced funds over the deep seated interests of long time government employees?

Proposal "C" is not an answer. It is cruel and unfair buck-passing to cover up our failures at the grassroots level to select able candidates who will use their time, intelligence and staff resources to improve government on a representative basis. Representative government is the heart of our American concept of democracy and should be protected. Proposal "C" waters it down and substitutes a mechanism where the oversimplification of complex matters will involve us in making decisions not really representative of the problems.

If you value our historic American traditions of representative government, vote "NO" on Proposal "C."

End of an era

To the Editor:

The closing of Wayne County General Hospital has brought an end to an era — an era covering 150 years during which comprehensive medical treatment was provided to all citizens of the County of Wayne as well as emergency care to all persons without regard to race, creed, national origin, religion, sex, age, handicap or source of payment.

It also brought an end to the warm, working relationships the employees have had with one another down through the years. However, what has not ended is the friendships we cultivated, a friendship which has sustained us and brought us even more closer together than ever before because of what we have experienced together — being placed on a four-day work week status, elimination of our COLA payments while continuing COLA for others, and having an impasse position imposed on us in which we have no rights other than the rights management wants us to have.

For the past year the news media and politicians have had a field day at our expense and we saw ourselves made the sacrificial lamb for all the County's problems. We became known as "those hospital employees" even though we are County employees who happened to work in a department of the County which happened to be Wayne County General Hospital.

Cheap shots were aimed specifically towards the members of the AFSCME bargaining unit. The fact that the deficit was there long before the members became unionized and the fact that the cost of living allowance was instituted because the cost of living was rising faster than the employees' salaries were completely ignored.

Repeatedly it was reported that the salary surveys conducted showed that the "hospital employees" were overpaid. Well since the hospital has now closed and many of "those hospital employees" have transferred to other County departments, one has to wonder what the real purpose of those surveys were for. Because we are no longer "hospital employees," will another survey be conducted with the comparison being made with private industry and will we then regain what we have lost? Will they now refer to us as County employees — the hospital no longer exists? And, we wonder among ourselves that when the County is still unable to balance the budget and if we become known as County employees, will we once again have to take the responsibility for the unbalanced budget?

We have weathered many a storm together and we all will be facing new challenges — some of us will be retiring, some have already retired, some have jobs to go to and some will not but we are all survivors and when one door is shut, another opens.

We are proud to have been a part of Wayne County General Hospital's 150-year history and this, no one can take away from us.

Supports millage

To the Editor:

I sit and write this letter to you for I feel compelled to do so. The Belleville Enterprise is a must in my home and I would be lost and uninformed without it.

Since this is an election year, on our local ballot is a millage for the Van Buren township police. They are requesting one (1) mill over a 5 year period.

In August of this year, I and my fellow residents of the northeast section of Van Buren township really got a chance to become acquainted with our police when we had a serious problem with the owner of the old "Wayne Sand and Gravel" pit located in our area.

Our police force were very helpful and responded to the calls quickly and handled themselves well. How they did it I'll never know, they are way understaffed and lack the equipment they need to do their job properly.

But we needed them and they were there for us! We need more patrol cars, more men, and better radio equipment.

One mill is little to ask for, considering the work they do for us. We must update our police force, we must help them, so they can help us.

Bless you boys!!

cials," however. Too often the truth lies elsewhere. Only as a result of journalistic probing do we learn the real story.

The death of a President or a Pope or any world or national leader ultimately trickles down to us through wars, the economy, the prices of goods and services (such as OPEC and oil prices).

Closer to home, Associated Newspapers deals with what amounts to conspiracy and intrigue on a more local level. Sometimes its simply called "politics" or "good-old-boyism". Sometimes its more. Be assured, there are "interests" to be protected far closer to home than one might suspect. There are few, if any, local assassinations, but be assured, there are those in positions of power and influence, both political and economic, who would prefer that the what, when, where, how and why we deal with never sees daylight.

It is our job to work against those interests — and always in your best interest. I will leave this subject here for now, simply by repeating what I said last year — for that is the significance of it all.

"Guard with your life your right to know, for once the light of freedom of speech or freedom of information is extinguished, only the bloodshed of many can rekindle the flame."

Many have become cynical and trust few if any in the public sector. I scarcely justify that kind of dropping out — rather let me suggest involvement, awareness and vigilance.

You can have an impact on the outcome. You can affect the caliber of office-holders who are duty bound to feret out the truth, protect your interests and stamp out corruption.

Become informed and vote. You are only one ... but you are one.

Ford vs. Carlson: 15th District candidates agree on very little

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Managing Editor

Ideologically speaking, William Ford and Gerald Carlson live in different worlds.

Cong. Ford, serving in his 10th term as representative of the 15th District, is considered a liberal Democrat. Carlson, his opponent for the House seat, is one of the more controversial political candidates around, favoring "equal rights for the (white) European ethnics." Although running as a Republican, state Republican leaders have denounced his platform and labeled the Wayne resident a "White supremacist."

Ford's response to Carlson's request for a public debate gives an indication of how deeply-rooted feelings are in this campaign.

"I have no intention of appearing on a platform with a man whose announced principles are anti-American," Ford declared. "He speaks of nothing but race, bigotry and religious hatred."

"This type of political philosophy is so alien and dangerous that it would be irresponsible for me to give it any public notice whatsoever," he said. "I appreciate the fact that the Republican Party from top to bottom has denounced his candidacy."

Carlson, 42, defeated Glen Kassel in the primary and ran against Ford in 1982 as a Democrat. In 1980 he upset James Caygill of Woodhaven in the primary, receiving some 56 percent of the Republican vote.

"I am not a geneticist," he said in response to being called a white supremacist. "I'm not here to argue genetics. I and my people (European minorities) are suffering because of the claims of black people."

"Basically I'm opposed to integration," he said. "I don't the U.S. Air Force and also speaks German and Swedish.

Ford was born in 1927 in Detroit and after earning his law degree at the age of 26 he became Justice of the Peace in Taylor Township. He served in the Michigan State Senate from 1962 through 1964 and was elected to the 89th Congress in 1964.

As Chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee and its Subcommittee on Investigations, Ford directs Congressional oversight on the entire Federal civilian payroll of $69.9 billion and the U.S. Postal Service

Ford is the ranking majority member of the House Committee on Education and Labor—the Committee which writes virtually all Federal education legislation covering elementary through postgraduate study. He is the acting chairman of the Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary and Vocational Education and the ranking member of the Subcommittee on Postsecondary Education. He serves on the Subcommittee on Labor-Management Relations and the Subcommittee on Health and Safety.

Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill appointed Congressman Ford as a member of the National Commission on Student Financial Assistance, which made a comprehensive study of the policy issues related to student financial aid which was issued in 1983.

A resolution passed by the Michigan Republican State Committee last June denounced Carlson's candidacy, stating: (State Committee) deplores and absolutely rejects the viewpoints and beliefs of Mr. Carlson and repudiates his candidacy; there is no room in the Republican Party for Gerald Carlson or his ilk."

The 15th District encompasses Wayne, Westland, Canton Township, Belleville, Romulus, Huron Township, Sumpter Township and several other communities.

believe in forced busing or integration.

"Am I a racist?" he repeated the interviewer's question. "Is Jesse Jackson a racist? Jackson is speaking for and representing black people."

A private investigator, Carlson said he would work to repeal Affirmative Action programs and the Fair Housing legislation if elected next Tuesday. He served as a Russian linguist for four years in budget and payroll of $28 billion, representing nearly three million Federal employees. The Committee also has jurisdiction over the Federal Employee Health Benefits Program, a $6.8 billion a year program covering over 10 million individuals, as well as the Civil Service Retirement System which covers over 4.5 million individuals and is financed by a $110 billion trust fund which annually pays out more than $20 billion.

does your house get smaller as the days get shorter?

As the shorter and colder days of fall increase heating needs, do you tend to use fewer rooms? Does your family's living space start "shrinking" because that enclosed porch, attic room, basement or Florida room is not heated?

You can change all that by adding permanently installed electric supplemental space heating equipment. To help you enjoy your entire home in cold weather, Detroit Edison offers a special supplemental space heating rate. There are more than a dozen different types of heating products applicable for this special rate. Call Detroit Edison or check your Yellow Pages under Electrical Contractors or Lighting Suppliers for help in preventing your house from getting smaller as the days get shorter.

Nothing stands still . . .

By DAVID M. MAXFIELD
Smithsonian News Service

"All is flux, nothing stands still." Heraclitus (c. 540-475 B.C.)

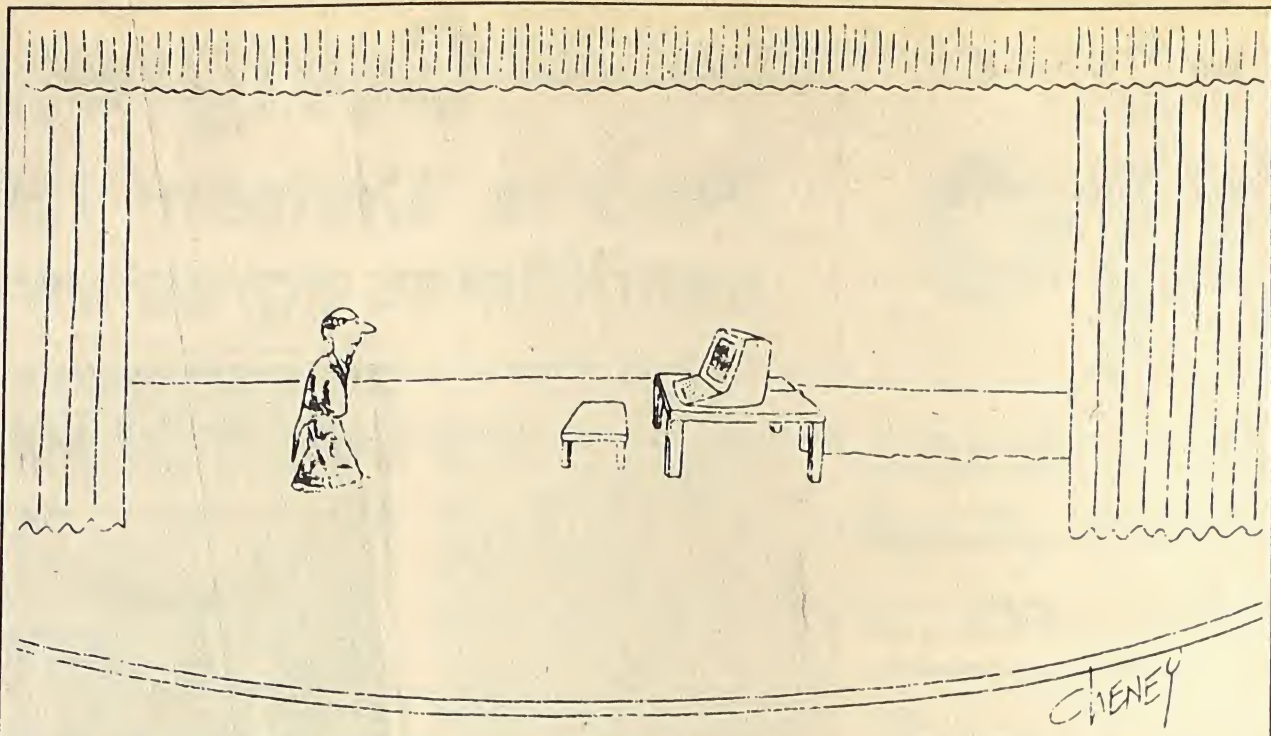

Change. Many welcome it, thriving on its challenges. Others resist it, fearing its consequences. Always, change inescapable, an inevitable part of our lives.

In a changing world, this is the century of greatest change. More change, for better or worse, has occurred in the past 84 years than in all recorded history, cultural historian say. What's more, the velocity, scale and impact of those transformations have been immense.

It took the human race close to a million years to reach a billion in population now humanity increases by a billion in less than 20 years. Weapons, once local in impact, today have devastating potential on a global scale. On the beneficial side, though, new high-tech sensors are able to replace exploratory surgery, allowing physicians to "see" into the body with unprecedented clarity.

Even the pace of change in the arts has speeded up. Plato said that Egyptian art had not changed in 10,000 years — not exactly a true statement, but accurate enough when compared with the shifting trends of cubism, surrealism and all the other art "isms" of the yet-unfinished 20th century.

The pace of change can be measured in personal ways. Summer vacations were unknown to most people in 1900. Or, take the matter of hats: Not so long ago their wearing was the custom of every self-respecting man and boy. And as a symbol of change in domestic life, there is no better example than the disappearance of the piano, once second only in importance to the kitchen stove in the American home.

Paradoxically, change, even when it is for the better, may take something from our lives. Paris for the weekend and China in a number of hours are now real possibilities, but the cultural historian David McCullough "nothing ever built and set loose across the land has ever matched the giant steam locomotive for sheer glorious drama."

McCullough is one of 65 contributors writing in a new publication, "The Phenomenon of Change," produced by the Cooper-Hewitt Museum, the Smithsonian Institution's National Museum of Design in New York City. Edited by Director Lisa Taylor and featuring essays by theologians and scientists, urban planners and anthropologists, psychologists and philosophers, "Change" explores the remarkable social, personal and technological transformations that have occurred during this century. A principal theme suggests that because more profound changes lie ahead "we must understand the nature of change — its causes and effects — its dangers and possibilities."

Many of the large changes that loom ahead are sure to raise difficult moral and ethical questions, Taylor and several essayists predict. The issue of the distribution of wealth is one. Conventional wisdom holds that a society benefits economically by increased productivity, Roger L. Shinn, Reinhold Niebuhr professor of social ethics at Union Theological Seminary, notes.

"But if productivity rises through displacement of workers by robots and other machines, the problem of poverty appears in new forms. And the economic processes that lead to unemployment may become stronger than the ethical concerns that motivate the society to cure unemployment."

"As much as we would like to believe so, change does not always mean progress," Taylor commented. "Whereas it is not inherently good, it is not necessarily bad. Change however, does have consequences. They can be positive or negative, or both or neither. Change is filled with paradoxes and contradictions; it is sometimes not easily

Rumple-Estrada exchange vows

One hundred guests were in attendance for the Oct. 6 wedding of Tonya Lee Rumble of Wayne and Karl Thomas Estrada of West Bloomfield.

Potted mums and candle-lab-ras decorated Nardin Park United Methodist Church for the late afternoon ceremony. Music was by Gary Moore, a friend of the groom, who played the guitar. Solist was Tammy Rumble, sister of the bride, who sang the theme from "Ice Castles" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loral M. Rumble of Wayne. The groom is the son of Thelma Estrada of Port Huron and Albert Estrada of New Orleans, Louisiana.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white silk taffeta with a bouffant skirt and chapel-length train, trimmed with re-embroidered alecon lace. The sweetheart bodice was accented with alecon lace and seed pearls. The sleeves were leg-o-mutton and English net and were trimmed in alecon lace and seed pearls.

Her matching veil was two-tiered with a rolled edge, trimmed in reimbroidered alecon lace and pearls. She also wore her great-grandmother's pearl necklace for the ceremony.

Her bouquet was made up of fresh white sweetheart roses, with baby's breath and green floral leaves.

She asked her sister, Lisa F.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Estrada

Hajduk, to serve as her matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of silk and organza in a cherry frost color. A matching wreath headpiece was made of lilies of the valley, baby's breath, white and peach silk sweetheart roses. She carried two long-stemmed open roses with lilies of the valley and baby's breath.

The bridesmaids were Tammy Rumble, sister of the bride, and Pamela Brooks, a friend of the bride. Their gowns were floor-length silk and organza in a peach color. They also carried two long-stemmed open roses with lily of the valley and baby's breath accents.

The groom asked a friend, William Peacock, to perform the duties of best man. The ushers were Mel Rumble, brother of the bride, Brian Phillips, brother-in-law of the groom, Anthony Rumble, brother of the bride, and Tony Smith, a friend of the groom.

Mrs. Rumble chose a blue floor-length dress of silk and organza, with an empire waist trimmed in seed pearls. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Estrada chose a beige floor-length floral print gown with matching lace jacket for the wedding. Her corsage also was made up of pink rosebuds.

A reception for the newlyweds and 100 guests was held at Roma's of Bloomfield Hills. The rehearsal dinner was held at Topinka's in Farmington Hills.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Sugarloaf Mountain Resort in Northern Michigan before taking up residence in Cass Lake.

The new Mrs. Estrada is a 1977 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School. She currently is employed as a secretary with Lexitel Corp. in Birmingham.

Goodbye parties fete McDaniels

"Goodbye" gatherings were on the agenda recently for Frank and Michelle McDaniels, who arrived home from Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Texas, in late September.

On Sept. 21 they were the guests at the Canton Township home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Bennett, for an early Thanksgiving dinner. Family members in attendance included his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosnow, formerly of Belleville, who traveled from Hersey, Michigan, for the party; his cousin, Rick McCurdy, his sister Sherril and a friend, Mark Quinn, and his mother and stepfather, Roy and Dianna Smith.

The couple also were the guests of honor at McDaniels' father and stepmother's home. Frank and Gladys McDaniels, along with 40 family members and friends, including his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McDaniel of Kentucky, and his aunts, Betty Catron and Alletha Cornett, also of Kentucky, were in attendance.

Before a 7 a.m. Oct. 6 departure the couple shared breakfast with their parents and sisters Sherril and Melissa at the Golden Boy Restaurant in Wayne.

McDaniel is an electronic computer switching system specialist with the U.S. Air Force. The couple has moved to his new duty station, Clark Air Base in the Philippines.

Mrs. McDaniels is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Norrow of Westland.

Teen is pageant finalist

Karey McGlinch, 14, of Westland has been named a finalist in Teen Magazine's 1985 Miss Teenage America Competition. One of 40 finalists selected nationwide from an estimated 10,000 entries, McGlinch is eligible for advancement into the field of 12 grand finalists, one step away from winning the competition. Her picture will appear in the January issue of the magazine. Contestants enter by filling out entry forms available in the magazine and are chosen for their scholarship, community service, personal achievement, poise, personality, talent and appearance, according to a magazine spokesperson.

If picked as one of the 12 grand finalists, McGlinch will be flown to Los Angeles to participate in the Miss Teenage America Pageant Dec. 7 at Disneyland. The winner will appear on a spring cover of "Teen" and receive several prizes, including a $20,000 scholarship and an automobile. "This program is not a traditional beauty contest," said spokesperson Susan Schreiner, "but an achievement program that each year recognizes America's outstanding young women 13 to 18."

STUDENT LOANS MUST BE PAID, HOWEVER, THEY CAN BE NEGOTIATED!!

Dear Letter Writer: I just received the following letter from the National Payment Center in Norfolk, Virginia. I need your help in explaining my situation to them.

Sincerely, SR

Dear SR:

The Department of Education currently holds a defaulted student loan in your name. The passage of the Debt Collection Act of 1982 provides for notification of our intent to report specific account information to consumer credit bureaus. We will be forwarding the information shown in this letter, in not less than 60 days, to nationwide consumer credit bureaus. This action may adversely affect your ability to obtain future credit. In order to avoid this action and satisfy your debt, immediately, remit your check or money order for payment in full to the United States Department of Education, clearly indicating your social security number and current address and mail to the Norfolk Virginia office. If you wish an explanation of this debt, an opportunity to dispute any information concerning this debt, or an administrative review of this debt, you must forward a written request to Payco American Collection Agency, Oakland, California.

Sincerely, Chief of Accounts Resolution

Dear National Payment Center:

I am in receipt of your letter to me of December 24, 1983.

This letter is being written to inform you that it is my intention to amicably resolve this matter and pay any amount owned by me with regard to my student loan.

On December 12, 1975, I completed my studies at Control

Data Institute in Los Angeles, California. At that time, it was my understanding that my Student Loan Indebtedness was One Hundred, Ninety ($190) Dollars.

By copy of this letter, I am requesting that Control Data Institute provide me with a recapitulation as to Loans, Grants, Scholarships, etc. provided to me toward payment of my tuition at the Institute.

In addition, I would respectfully request that the National Payment Center apprise me of the method by which the $2,158.68 amount was calculated.

Inasmuch as there is an obvious large discrepancy in the amount I believe I owe and the amount claimed that I owe, I would appreciate your cooperation in providing me with the requested data.

I look forward to your prompt response.

Sincerely, SR

RESOLUTION: After correspondence back and forth between SR, the School and the National Payment Center, an amount owed was agreed upon. SR began making payments. A Student Loan is surmised to be taken in "good faith." Often after graduation, it is difficult to begin making full payments immediately as gainful employment is not always secured. A small payment is better than no payment and preserves an individual's credit rating. If you have student loan indebtedness, write to the powers that be and work it out. It will be a lot easier for you in the long run and, after all, it is only fair.

discernible, and it frequently requires time to judge."

Actually, the linkage of the concept of progress with the phenomenon of change is relatively new. In ancient times, the Hebrews perceived change much differently. "This was not the modern belief in progress," Shinn

While the rate of technological innovation has "become almost frenzied," he points out, "the evidence points to the priority of the acceptance of technological change" by most cultural groups. Simply put, it takes much more time to change ideological and social values.

Some of the very changes that

"How sorely will we miss our once nicely socialized buying habits along ordinary and friendly steets?"

—Charles King-Hoyt

writes, "the future (to the Israelites) might be a time of fearful judgment as truly as it might be a messianic age."

The new interpretation came about in the 19th century, a result of confidence in the power of rationality, belief in evolution and faith in technology and industry. Though there were skeptics who resisted the erosion of traditional beliefs and who saw modern rationalism as a drain on human vitality, Shinn concludes that change — once viewed as transitory and unreliable — "became for a time the symbol of hope."

At least one thing, however, seems constant about change. Cultural attitudes are "more accepting of certain types of alteration than others," Morton H. Fried, professor of anthropology at Columbia University, says.

have improved our quality of life also have lessened it, Taylor contends, asking whether we might not forfeit less if we planned more intelligently. Along with power, affluence, comfort, mobility, and consumer goods, she notes, have come increased pollution, congestion, standardization, dependency and vulnerability.

Consider the case of synthetics. Only yesterday, plastic was "product non grata" to many and "natural" reigned as a bountiful panacea. Change has brought second thoughts. Synthetic swimsuits, for one small example, help swimmers go faster than a 1920s Olympian ever dreamed possible. And "polyester, which in some circles had become virtually synonymous with tackiness, is now being manufactured in such delicate weaves that high fashion's top designers are beginning to use it without shame," observes essayist Carter Wiseman, architecture critic of New York magazine.

Plastics also are now essential to, among others, the construction and health care industries. Once-fatal injuries can now be alleviated with man-made replacement parts.

And yet, for all the advantages that the synthetic tide provides, Wiseman warns there are hazards that cannot be ignored. Unbreakable plastic bottles, for one — the very containers filled with all-natural sparkling water — will not disintegrate under normal processes of decay, except burning, "and then they will become part of a growing global trash cloud." There is a philosophical danger with synthetics as well. The products of nature have offered a guide to the understanding of what is real, he says, but as they "recede from us, our search for reality grows more difficult."

Within another cultural change, seemingly harmless, lurks a possible blow to the quality of daily life. Of all things, it involves catalog shopping, once a necessity in rural areas, but now gaining status with busy consumers. In tandem with this trend is the continuing spread of large shopping complexes across the country, whether football-field-sized malls or multi-level city boutiques stacked high like building blocks.

"How sorely will we miss our once nicely socialized buying habits along ordinary and friendly streets?" asks architect Charles King Hoyt.

Significant, life-altering change can come in small ways. The automobile, television and now the computer may be the big engines of 20th-century change, but historian McCullough asks what life would be like without the following items unknown before 1900: traffic lights, one-way streets, windshield wipers, paper clips, the zipper, the safety razor, aspirin, Band-Aids, canned tomato juice, Kleenex, tabloid newspapers, sliced bread, instant coffee, contact lenses and push-button phones.

The matter of long-term effects of change on society, however, require different solutions. The historical record demonstrates that societies have collapsed because they failed to keep up with fundamental change in conditions around them. Our own, author Robert Theobald observes, is confronted by two factors that complicate our adaptive ability; the need to

"Once we break out of despair and look toward the potential of a better future, we will see that we have time to be positively creative."

consider the impact of our actions on all peoples and on the total environment, and the necessity of adjusting values learned early in life to cope with great change.

But Theobald, among other "Change" essayists, is sanguine about the future. "Once we break out of despair and look toward the potential of a better future, we will see that we have time to be positively creative," he says, "for it is only if the human race grows up that it can avoid blowing itself up."

"The Phenomenon of Change" is available in tabloid format, $8.95 plus $2.50 for shipping, from Cooper-Hewitt Museum, 2 East 91st Street, New York, N.Y. 10128. A soft-cover book version is distributed by Rizzoli International and is sold at bookstores.

Roberts-Reed repeat vows in double-ring ceremony

A homemade trellis decorated in white and yellow flowers was where Christine Margaretha Roberts of Wayne and Kevin Reed, also of Wayne, exchanged their nuptial vows on Sept. 28.

The ceremony, officiated by Rev. Tom Wilson of St. John's Episcopal Church of Westland, was held in the lounge of the Wayne Community Center.

The bride is the daughter of Ken Roberts of Belleville and Wilma Parker of Wayne, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Armond Reed of Wayne.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore the same gown worn by her mother on her wedding day 31 years ago for the double-ring ceremony. The off-white gown of Chantilly lace was accented by a princess neckline with a chapel train. Her Juliet cap held a chapel-length veil in place, and her bouquet was of yellow and white silk daisies and roses and lilies of the valley in a cascade effect.

She also wore an antique pearl necklace which belonged to her grandmother.

She asked her cousin, Carolyn Ann Roberts of Wayne, to serve as her maid of honor. She wore a long-sleeved tea dress, with a white bodice and silver skirt. Her bouquet continued the yellow and white theme and was made up of yellow and white silk daisies and baby's breath with yellow and white streamers.

The groom asked Bill Nichols to serve as best man for the nuptials. He wore a silver tuxedo with white shirt and vest to complement the honor attendant's ensemble.

The bride's mother chose a light rose empire-style dress with matching jacket. Her corsage was made up of yellow silk roses. The groom's mother wore a long-sleeved, empire-style beige dress and her corsage also was of yellow silk roses.

The reception following the wedding, the first to ever be scheduled at the Community Center. The rehearsal dinner was at the groom's parents' Wayne home.

The couple honeymooned in Niagara Falls for four days before taking up residence in Westland.

The new Mrs. Reed attended Wayne Memorial High School and is currently employed as a waitress. Her husband also attended Wayne Memorial High School and owns a lawn and garden service.

Classic ending: Wayne vs. Glenn

Rockets shoot down HP

By KEITH A. DeMOLAY
ANP Special Writer

On the wall of the weight room at John Glenn High School is painted a helmet with the words "Never Give Up," a motto that every Rocket football squad through the years has carried proudly into battle.

Last Friday afternoon, at Highland Park's Polar Bear Field, the Rockets lived up to that philosophy offered by Winston Churchill in a dramatic come-from-behind effort against Highland Park, 21-12.

Coach Chuck Gordon, who achieved his 50th coaching victory in the effort, felt: "It was a tremendous effort to beat someone of their caliber, someone who had won a conference championship. It was tremendous to beat someone of this nature."

Glenn entered the game as an underdog, having sustained a 20-7 loss at the hands of North Farmington the previous week. But the 34 players and three coaches responded to the challenge.

And what a challenge to walk into — Highland Park came into the game with a 5-2 record, having won its last five games including a victory over Dearborn Heights Robichaud that netted the Polar Bears the Suburban Athletic Conference championship.

"They have great size and worried us going in," said Gordon. "Our players came to play and it took a lot of enthusiasm and effort to offset this (their size)."

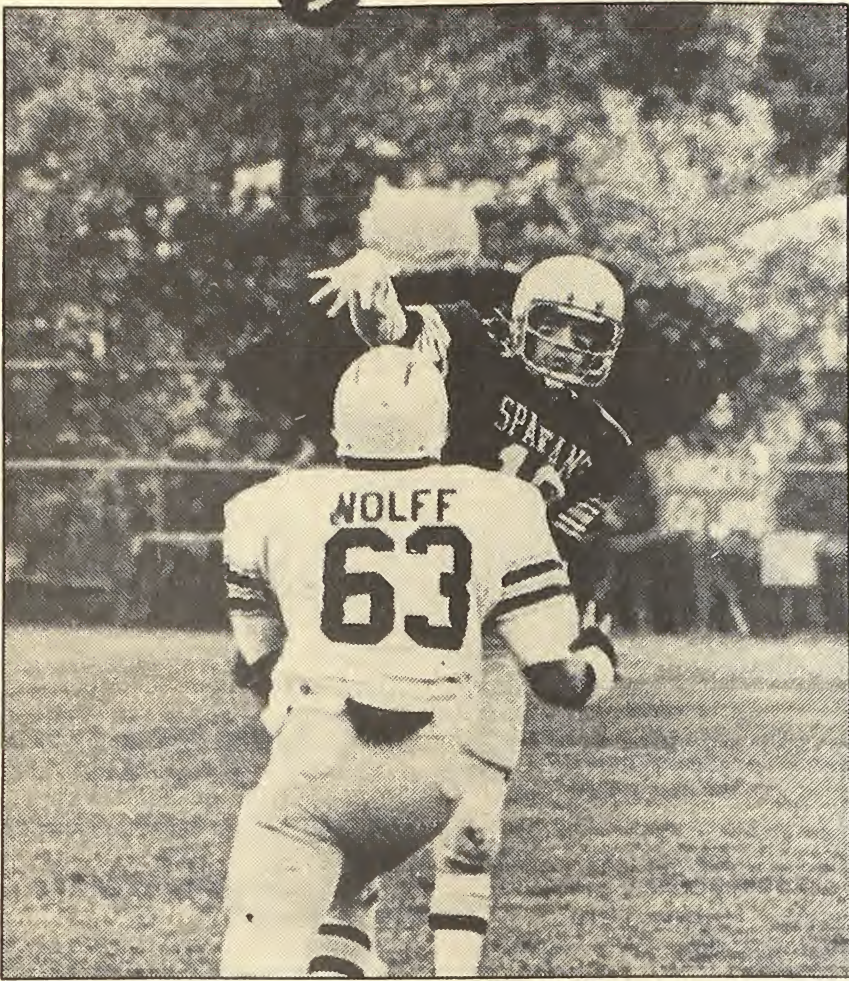

Highland Park opened the scoring in the first quarter behind the running of Richard Branch (Sr., 5-10, 197) and Edward White (So., 5-10; 173) who got the ball to the 33-yard line.

At the 6:00 mark, quarterback Lemuel Jones (Jr., 6-1, 158) took the snap from center, stepped back and launched a pass to Lyman DePriest (So., 6-7, 177). DePriest caught the ball between two defenders and raced to the end zone. The Polar Bears decided to go for two, but they were stopped and led only 6-0.

Glenn concentrated on getting their act together as their defense held them in the game. Of course, they also got help from junior Rick Hassen, who was appearing in his first game as the punter. With Glenn backed up to their own goal line, Hassen boomed the ball out of trouble, all the way to the 15-yard line. The punt was recorded to have traveled 70 yards, breaking the previous school record of 64 set by Frank Sprinkle in 1983.

"It (the punt) really got us out of a hole," said Gordon. "We were behind 6-0 at the time. It got us field position for our defense."

That punt kept the Polar

Airborne

Letting loose the ball just before a Crestwood defender gets to him is Cherry Hill quarterback Mike Sasseen (dark jersey). Sasseen and the Spartans ran into problems against the Chargers and lost the decision two weeks ago. The problems were compounded last Saturday when Coach Ken Mientkiewicz was forced to discipline several of his players and Southgate Anderson capitalized on the situation. Anderson routed the Spartans 41-0 in the conference curtain-drawer.

Spartans regroup

After losing a 41-0 Tri-River Conference football decision to Southgate Anderson, Cherry Hill and Coach Ken Mientkiewicz will regroup and travel to Clarenceville Friday night to face their final opponent of the 1984 campaign.

Both teams will bring identical 4-4 won-lost records into the confrontation which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

"Clarenceville has an experienced and well-disciplined club," noted Mientkiewicz. "We're going to have to play one of our best games to stop them."

Mientkiewicz said that the six starters he had disciplined prior to the Anderson game will be back in the line-up for Clarenceville. The Spartan coach refused to elaborate on the reasons why the players were benched, because "it isn't fair to those concerned."

"We'll be ready for Clarenceville this week," the Spartan coach vowed.

Mientkiewicz was critical, however, of the Anderson coaching staff which continued to watch as their team, "threw touchdown passes with two minutes to go in the ball game after they knew we were soundly defeated."

Anderson exploded for 14 points in the second quarter to grab a 21-0 first half lead before claiming the one-sided 41-0 victory.

"Although I'm critical of them (Anderson), I am extremely proud of the 18 players who gave us 100 percent during the entire game. We were outmanned by an experienced team but our kids continued to play their hearts out.

"We're proud of them" Mientkiewicz concluded.

Penalties and turnovers. Wayne Memorial Coach Floyd Carter hoped his team had shed these bugaboos but he was mistaken.

Unable to overcome its mistakes, the Zebras saw their modest two-game winning streak end last Friday night at the hands of Taylor Center, 10-7. The setback left Wayne at 2-6 for the campaign heading into the traditional season finale against Westland John Glenn.

The Zebras reverted back to some of the same miscues that haunted them during their opening five losses. In addition to two fumbles and two interceptions, Wayne was plagued for 65 yards in penalties, including three 15-yarders during the first half that stopped potential scoring drives.

"On one play Kwan Hearn went for 20 yards to get us deep into their territory and it was called back," lamented Carter. "The penalties on offense killed our momentum."

"We should have beat TC," he continued, "but you can't turn the ball over four times and have these kinds of penalties."

Following a scoreless first half, the Rams moved 71 yards in 11 plays with Ken Owens blasting over from the three to give the visitors a touchdown lead early in the third period.

The Zebras quickly retaliated, mounting a 65-yard march in six plays highlighted by a 24-yard TD run from Hearn, who replaced the injured Matt Mason at tailback. Hearn, normally a fullback, broke a couple tackles en route to the end zone. Doug Quartuc-cio added the conversion for a 7-7 deadlock.

With 3:45 left to play, Ed Hosmer booted a 29-yard field goal for the deciding points. The Zebras had given Hosmer a second opportunity to hit the three-pointer by jumping offside on the previous play, in which his kick had fallen short. His second try cleared the cross bar by inches.

Wayne then drove to the Taylor 18 yard-line late in the contest but an offensive pass interference infraction pushed them out of field goal range. A last-ditch pass was intercepted inside the 10-yard line to snuff out the Zebras' final chance.

Overall the Zebras outgained their opponents (215 yards 164), led in first downs (13-8) and offensive snaps (50-44). The Rams, however, committed no turnovers or penalties.

Hearn paced the Zebras' ground attack, which netted 193 yards, by gaining 76 yards in 18 carries. Tim Mullroy added 57 yards in eight carries from the fullback position and was credited with an "outstanding game" by Carter. Mike Jackson was slowed by a bad ankle and rushed only seven times.

Defensively, Carter singled out the following individuals for superlative play — Mike Korzecki, Dave Kaitschuck, Jim Carana and Mike Cooney.

"Our secondary did a great job too, Carter said. "They had passed for over 600 yards going into the game and we held them to five of 15 completions for 74 yards."

Wayne will travel to John Glenn for the "big" game on their schedule at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

"We'll have to play a flawless game to beat them," Carter declared.

The Wayne Memorial junior varsity upended Taylor Center, 18-6, last week to raise its record to 4-3-1. The jayvees will host John Glenn at 7 p.m. Thursday.

Tigers finish 3rd best in Wolverine 'A'

Belleville, Canton clash in finale

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Although they ended the Wolverine "A" Conference football campaign on the shortend of a 28-0 decision at Trenton, Belleville High coach Pete O'Neill isn't disappointed. His team finished with a 3-3 league record, good enough for third place.

"When you consider one of the finest teams in the state — Dearborn Fordson — finished ahead of us and that Trenton, which is also state ranked was second," O'Neill continued, "how can you be disappointed by a third place finish?"

Trenton's lone loss of the season is to Fordson which wrapped up the conference championship a week ago with a perfect 6-0 record.

The Trojans put two touchdowns on the scoreboard against the visiting Tigers in the first quarter as fullback John Milligan tallied from the nine and also from the two after long drives.

Belleville made its bid for the end zone early in the second quarter when the Tigers, with Bob Spicer at the throttle, moved from their own 37-yard line to the Trojan three where they gave up the ball on downs after a Spicer pass narrowly missed its target, Mike Sprau.

"If we had scored on that play it would have been a 14-7 ball game early in the second period and anything could have happened," said O'Neill. "In fact, we had several near misses — passes that were just inches away from our receivers.

"This game was closer than the score indicates," O'Neill added.

Generally, Belleville found the Trenton defense impregnable. The Trojans gave up only four first downs and 17 yards rushing as compared to 19 first downs and 274 yards rushing for the Trojans. However, Belleville gave up 141 of those yards the first two series of the ball game.

The Tigers received an outstanding defensive effort from linebacker Ernie Paponetti who had nine tackles and defensive halfback Mike Beckley who was in on 12 sacks.

O'Neill and the Tigers will wrap up the 1984 season at Plymouth Canton. The Chiefs are coming off of a 28-0 victory over Walled Lake Western and are improving each week.

"It seems that we have been trading victories with Canton each year," O'Neill said. "Everytime we play them at home we win; over there, they win."

Belleville is on the road Friday night.

2 last minute Robichaud TDs keep 'B' playoff hopes alive

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Overcoming turnovers and "some very poor officiating", Dearborn Heights Robichaud scored two touchdowns in the span of 2½ minutes to overcome a 14-7 deficit in the last quarter and win a crucial 21-14 decision over Marine City.

The Robichaud victory enabled Coach Bob Yauck and his Bulldogs to remain alive in the race for a post-season Class B playoff berth. The Bulldogs have a 7-1 over-all won-lost record as they prepare to host their final opponent of the 1984 season. They'll meet a much improved Ypsilanti Lincoln at 1:30 p.m. Saturday on the home turf.

"We have a slim chance of backing into the playoffs," Yauck said, "but Saline and Monroe Catholic Central would have to lose before we would be given any consideration. Of course, we also would have to beat Ypsi Lincoln and they are an excellent team this year."

Yauck said Lincoln is a "scrappy and much improved team which probably hasn't forgotten the way we beat them a year ago." Robichaud buried Ypsi 47-0 in 1983. Lincoln will bring a 6-2 record into Saturday's season finale.

In the meantime, Yauck expressed displeasure at the quality of officiating he and his club received at Marine City Friday night.

"It was poor and you can put that in the paper," said Yauck alluding to the officiating. "We had to overcome our mistakes and some very poor officiating to win this one."

After a scoreless first quarter, Robichaud broke the ice when Jerry Smith recovered a Marine City fumble on the host's 25-yard line. Six plays later Ray Carreathers had the Bulldogs at the one where Omar Galbreath got the call and the touchdown. Then, Tae Chae Sim booted his first of three point-after.

However, Marine City recovered and retaliated with a pair of third quarter touchdowns thanks to Randy Jones's 34-yard touchdown run. He later tallied from the one-yard, giving the hosts a 14-7 edge.

With two minutes remaining in the fourth period, the Dearborn Heights gridders got down to serious work. Pinned to their goal line, Marine City was forced to punt, the ball going to Galbreath who returned it 23 yards to the MC 26 yard line.

Two plays later, Carreathers pulled off a keeper that resulted in a 16-yard TD run.

Robichaud attempted an onside kick, but Marine City was ready. They got the ball and held on for all of two plays when Galbreath intercepted at the MC 40 and returned it three yards before he was tackled. With 50 seconds to go, Robichaud put what proved to be the winning TD on the lights.

Carreathers and Dennis MacIntosh teamed up on a 7-yard pass, and then the QB completed the evening with a 30-yard TD strike to tight end Joe Fears.

"Statistically we just dominated this game," Yauck pointed out.

Galbreath racked up 79 of the Bulldogs 161 yards on the ground while Carreathers connected on 14 of 24 passes for 214 yards, giving the winners 375 yards for the game. The defense held Marine City to 153 total yards. But the Bulldogs were tacked with 200 yards in penalties as compared to 60 for Marine City.

Troy Taylor and Jeff Price were outstanding on defense.

Vikings also win a thriller

East Detroit Catholic ran the opening kick-off for an 80-yard touchdown against the Inkster Vikings last Friday, but that's about all they could do as Coach Arnice James's club settled down and won a 12-8 non-leaguer thriller.

The victory boosted the Vikings' record to 2-6 going into Friday's finale at Saginaw Buena Vista.

Cherry Hill's Matt Edwards (17) and Chris Dziadosz (68) provide a wall of protection as quarterback Mike Sasseen (12) looks for his receivers against Dearborn Heights Crestwood. The Spartans will attempt to end the season on a winning note Friday night at Clarenceville, and a victory would give first-year head coach Ken Mientkiewicz and his club a winning 5-4 record for 1984. Story is on Page 1-C.

Cougars take on Flyers

Neighborhood rivals, the Belleville Cougars and the Romulus Flyers will meet 1 p.m. on Sunday in the final series of the Little League football season.

Belleville will host the first of three games between the two opponents.

In the meantime, the Cougars swept two of three games from the Westland Comets as the freshmen posted a 13-0 victory. Robert Goldwater scored on a five-yard run and Gary Taylor tallied the extra point. Lee Bradford got the other TD on a seven-yarder.

The Cougar junior varsity was blanked by their peers, but the Cougar varsity posted a 27-7 victory as Matt Helm cashed in on runs of 32, 88 and 12 for touchdowns. Scott Janack passed a 29-yarder to Blaine Fielder for the Cougars' fourth TD.

Janack and Virgil Chandler each had conversions.

The Cougar senior varsity edged the Taylor Stallions 22-20 in overtime to win their divisional championship.

Airport bombed

Hungry-Huron feasts, 35-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Quick now, who can recall when the New Boston Huron's Chiefs put 16 points on the scoreboard in one quarter?

Or ran up 35 points in one game?

It's been a long, long time. Not the last five seasons, anyway, that the chiefs had accomplished those feats on the gridiron.

But that's what Coach Tom LaBeau's Chiefs did Friday night against Airport as they claimed an impressive 35-0 victory over their Huron Conference rivals. The victory gave the Chiefs only their second win in eight starts but that total is more wins the school has earned in the past two years.

Huron heads for Dearborn Heights Annapolis on Saturday in the final game of the 1984 season. Annapolis is coming on strong after a cold start, according to LaBeau.

"They (Annapolis) had some problems earlier in the season," LaBeau said, "but they appear to have solved them. They will probably be one of the more physical teams that we have met all year. And they will give anyone a good game."

Huron scored in each quarter against the winless Airport club as Les Harris, senior tailback, accounted for three of the five touchdowns. Harris scored on runs of one, two and four yards and finished the evening with 74 yards on 16 carries.

The Chiefs also got on the scoreboard thanks to a 27-yard strike that went from quarterback John Umin to Tom Richardson. Umin also teamed up with Chris Boulton for a 17-yard touchdown pass.

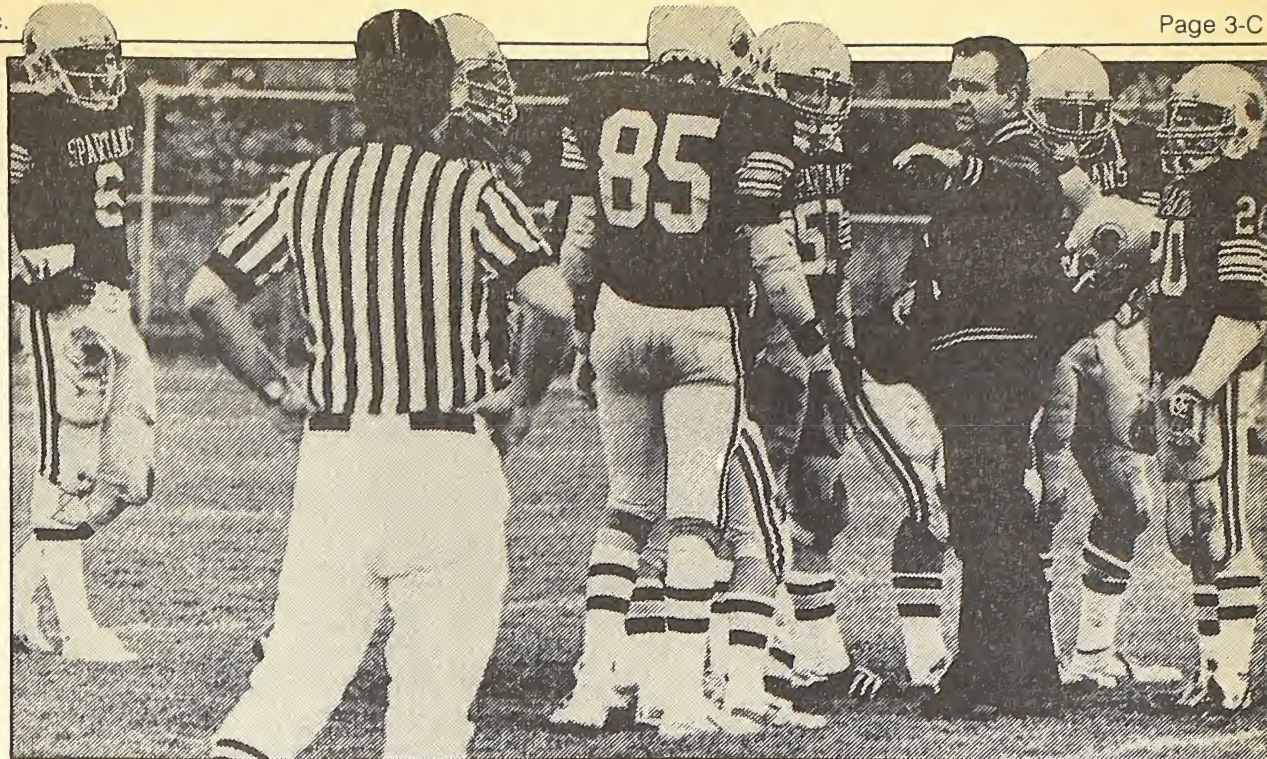

The senior QB was on target with eight of his 14 tosses, good for 148 yards and two TDs. He also rushed for 21 yards on seven attempts. Richardson had four of those eight receptions, and he also had an 80-yard touchdown run nullified because of an infraction.

Guy Cagle, the team's leading receiver, added two more catches to his total. The 6-2, 210-pound junior, has 25 receptions on the season.

Huron also received outstanding defensive performances from Gary Holder and Richardson. Holder stole two of the seven pass interceptions and Richardson also had a pair. Albie Kormos and Sean Vindus each intercepted Airport's aeriels and helped hold the rivals to a total of 38 yards rushing.

"We played well," LaBeau commented. "We were able to move the ball on the ground and when we went to the air our receivers were there."

The last hurrahs

Cherry Hill and its sports programs will soon become history as voters decided to dismantle the school district and hitch up with the Wayne-Westland schools. But, before that all happens in 1985, head football coach Ken Mientkiewicz would like to see his Spartans bow out as winners. The Spartans will play their final game of the season Friday night at Clarenceville and then prepare for their "final campaign" in 1985. Mientkiewicz offers a bit of wisdom to his players during the Anderson Southgate game and the identified players include Joe Walker (85), Paul Oster (50) and Rob Bryer (20). The story is on Page 1-C.

Romulus shuts out Thurston, 28-0

Morris scores 3 touchdowns in Eagle rout

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Putting together one of its best all-around efforts of the year, Romulus buried Redford Thurston 28-0 as senior running back Vince Morris scored three touchdowns in the rout.

"We played well," said Romulus coach Norb Glover, "however, Thurston was not the strongest team we played all year, either. But we needed this victory to prepare for Rouge."

Romulus will travel to Rouge Friday afternoon for its last game of the 1984 campaign. Kick-off is scheduled for 3 p.m. The Panthers have won only one of their eight contests this season.

"Rouge will be competitive," Glover said. "Don't let their record fool you. And we can't take any team for granted."

Thurston couldn't stop Morris who scored three of the four Romulus touchdowns. The speedy Eagle ballcarrier went in from the one-yard line and also plunged through the Thurston defenses at the two for two of his scores. Then, Morris picked off a pass and ran the ball back 65-yards into the Thurston end zone.

Romulus's final score went to junior halfback Billy Campbell who tallied from the three-yard line.

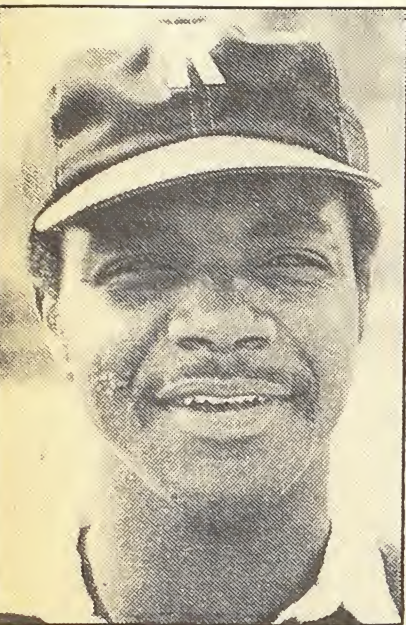

Glover said he was impressed with Campbell's running and "Billy showed he has a lot of promise for next year." He finished with 73 yards on 11 carries.

However, Morris led all rushers with an excellent 148 yards on 19 tries and three touchdowns.

The winless Thurston club had its problems running against the tough Romulus defense led by Bob O'Day, David Bergman and Johnny Montroy. Quarterback Jimmy Whitehill, a freshman, continued to be impressive as were Scott McNett, a guard, and center Ron Downey. McNett also managed to intercept a pass.

McNett, a 6-0, 215-pound senior guard who doubles as a defensive tackle, has been a solid performer all year for the Eagles who will take a 2-6 record into Friday's game against Rouge.

Romulus captures Metro West cross country title

Led by Anthony Thomas and Mike Overtree, Romulus harriers edged Taylor Truman to capture the 1984 Metro-West Conference cross country championship last week.

Thomas toured the 3-mile course in a record-shattering 16:31 to also claim individual honors. He led teammate Overstreet, who was clocked in 16:49, across the finish line.

"The kids were really excited about winning the title," said Romulus Coach Dan Henry. "There were some real closes races for the other spots but our kids came through."

Romulus's Bob Cisco chipped in with a sixth-place finish (17:46), while other contributors toward the title included Ben Veestraton (18:07), Steve Rodd (19:10), David Bell (20:22) and Dennis Corter, who finished 21st in 21:39.

Truman amassed 36 points to wind up in the runner-up slot while Oak Park was third with 47. Taylor Center, the fourth member of the conference, didn't field a team this year.

Although Thomas was first in a double dual meet, it wasn't enough to stop Wyandotte who won a 24-24 decision from its non-league rival. Romulus edged Southgate 25-30 in the same meet.

Earlier in the week the Eagles avenged a loss to Oak Park, emerging with a 19-36 victory. Thomas, Overstreet and Cisco provided a 1-2-3 finish.

In the duel for the title in the girls' division, Taylor Center's Ann Rowley surfaced with the first place medal thanks to her 20:45 performance. Romulus' Tracey DiBenedetto was runner-up in 22:57.

Coach Dan Henry's runners also finished third, fourth, fifth and sixth with Mary Savage (24:05), Kristie Worobi (25:21), Denna Galarowicz (26:10), Leah Barnts (26:44), and Lina Cousino (27:11).

Canton awaits Belleville

Tony Aiken returned the favor by intercepting a Dean Nessen pass and the first half ended with the Chiefs in front by two touchdowns.

The Chiefs continued to misfire occasionally on offense in the third quarter, but, unlike in earlier contests, they were able to overcome their mistakes. The Vikings intercepted Knapp for a third time and recovered a Canton fumble but could not capitalize on their opportunities.

The Chiefs upped their mark to 3-5, a considerable improvement over last year's 1-8 record.

Glenn prepares to host arch rivals

Bears in check until Glenn found themselves with the ball at their own 31-yard line with five minutes left in the first half. Rocket quarterback Steve Irwin took the snap from center Paul Pomorski, stepped back, pumped once, pumped twice, and let it fly down the left sideline where he had Chuck Hammontree in stride. The junior receiver hauled in the pass and raced untouched to score, completing the 69-yard pass play. Chris Piazza's PAT broke the tie and Glenn led, 7-6.

Shortly before halftime, Glenn got their hands on the ball once again and drove to the 13-yard line. but the Polar Bears' huge front wall dug in and stopped the Rockets.

In came Chris Piazza and Mike Troup to attempt a 30-yard field goal. Troup set the ball down, Piazza nailed it through the uprights and Glenn led, 10-6, at the half.

But Highland Park would not quit. Two years ago, the Parkers had come from behind for a 14-11 victory. The Polar Bears decided it was time to do that again so they drove down the field, led by the running of Keith Arrington (So., 5-9, 210) who required more than one Rocket defender to bring him down. Arrington rushed for 128 yards on 22 carries for the day.

Gordon was reminded of Earl Campbell when he saw Arrington and described him as "a back with good speed that keeps pumping away."

Jones sneaked it over from the one as the Glenn defense was left snarling. That only fired them up and they started their comeback by stopping Arrington on the two-point conversion.

The score remained 12-10 until the middle of the fourth quarter when Glenn responded to challenge like no other time this season. The Polar Bear offense was on their own 29-yard line, 4th down and 2. A conversion here and Glenn would have been looking down the barrel of trouble.

But not this time.

Arrington was dropped for no gain by a whole host of Rockets led by Mike Leck, Dana Jones, Paul Pomorski and Jeff Meixner. They and their teammates had hope.

"That was a big play," said Gordon. "It gave our offense some great field position. It was time to go to work."

Tony Boles, who amassed 113 yards on the day, picked up 5 yards, then Scott Lucas gained 8 more to the 16. Boles carried to the one on a couple runs before Irwin followed his center into the end zone for the score. This time, Glenn went for two as Boles scored easily and the Rockets led, 18-12.

Now comes another challenge — the annual clash with crosstown rival Wayne Memorial, a team Gordon considers "better than their record indicates."

Vikings' last quarter TD nips East Detroit Catholic

hitting series with Buena Vista," noted Coach James, "and I don't except Friday's to be any different. We'd like to also end the season on a 2-game winning streak."

After spotting East Detroit six-points, Inkster came back on the throwing arm of T.G. Winn to score with an 18-yard pass. Winn connected in the end zone to William Springer.

The Vikings' attempt to tie the score on a 2-point conversion failed.

Trailing 8-2 until the final two minutes, Inkster pulled out the victory as Winn put together an 88-yard drive that ended with Shawn Hayes's eight-yard touchdown reception.

Hayes picked up 44 yards in six carries to lead the Viking ball-carriers. Springer stood out defensively as he intercepted twice and David Laws, a tight end, also had an excellent game.

Check yourself out before ‘a hunting’ you will go

Hunting fever is about to hit the State of Michigan, bringing with a sense of adventure, a chance to get out with friends and a chance to enjoy the great out-of-doors.

There's a few things that the urge to head for the woods next month ... the all important hunting license and a thorough check of the gun. But how many hunters will take the time to make another important check ... with their doctor?

Check with your doctor? You bet.

"Each year, many hunters die when a careless hunter shoots at anything that moves ... those are the stories that make the news," said Dr. Seymour Gordon, co-director, division of cardiology, at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak. "According to the American Heart Association of Michigan, there's another killer out there — heart attack."

"Just as it is important to get your equipment ready, you should be getting your body ready, too," Dr. Gordon said. "First, you should see your doctor and have a checkup, if there is any history of heart disease or symptoms suggestive of a heart problem. Then you'll know what kind of shape you're in, and the doctor can prescribe an appropriate exercise plan. Even if there is no question of heart disease, an exercise training program is highly desirable, if you have been sedentary.

"The key is building up your body so it can handle the strain of hunting," he added. "You don't stop and think about it but you're doing a lot of work during that time of so-called relaxation with friends. Think of all the walking you do, carrying heavy supplies, and often in colder weather. That all puts a strain on your heart. In fact, your little outing can quadruple the heart's workload."

Dr. Gordon offered some precautions that hunters can take:

- Never hunt alone.
- Know where to get help in case of emergency — any kind of emergency. You should know how to reach the sheriff's department or other emergency medical aid in the area in which you're hunting.
- Be sure you're in condition. A program of moderate exercise will help put you in better condition to withstand some of the situations you're likely to encounter while hunting. But, be sure your doctor has evaluated you for your ability to exercise and participate in such a program if there is any question of a heart problem.

- Wear warm clothing that protects head, ears, hands and throat. Cold weather puts an added strain on the heart.
- Know the symptoms of heart attack: a feeling of fullness, heaviness or squeezing pain in the center of the chest, which may spread to arms, shoulders, neck or jaw and may be accompanied by nausea, vomiting, sweating or shortness of breath. If someone in your party experiences these symptoms, get help fast.
- If you're on medication for your heart, make sure that all members of your hunting party know where you keep your medication, and how it should be used.
- Don't tire yourself excessively. Take the hunting, the eating and the celebration in reasonable doses, and get plenty of rest.
- Watch your alcohol intake; though it may make you feel warmer, alcohol causes your body to lose heat faster.
- Get help to drag your quarry out of the woods — it can be very physically demanding to do so alone.

Dr. Gordon concluded: "We urge all hunters to observe these precautions, have a good hunt — and don't be a hunting casualty."

AF needs volunteers

Arthritis affects a lot of people. A total of 36 million Americans, including 250,000 children, to be exact. Arthritis affects more Americans than any other disease.

In Michigan alone, Arthritis affects 1½ million people. That's one in every seven people, one in three families. Everyone knows someone with Arthritis — a friend, neighbor, loved one. Volunteering with the Arthritis Foundation is a way to help that special someone.

The Arthritis Foundation-Michigan Chapter needs volunteers for any time that can be spared — a few hours a day, a week or a month.

Volunteers are needed to answer telephones, typing, mail work and special events. The public education program can use public speaking talents, and AF offers special training for its speakers' bureau. New skills can be learned as a volunteer for the Arthritis Foundation and orientation and training are available.

For information on how to become a volunteer, call or write the Arthritis Foundation-Michigan Chapter, Village Plaza Suite 605, Dearborn, 48124, or phone 561-9096.

ELECTION GUIDE

WAYNE ★ WESTLAND ★ CANTON ★ BELLEVILLE ★ ROMULUS ★ INKSTER

Numerous decisions await voters

Mondale-Ferraro or Reagan-Bush? Selection of a presidential ticket is but one of many decisions facing voters next Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Electors in Western Wayne County will tackle a complex ballot featuring federal, state, county and local candidates as well as state and local proposals. Not all are Democrat or Republican either, since representatives of six other parties seek public approval — Tisch Independent Citizens, Libertarian, Workers World, Socialist Workers, Workers League and Communist.

Voters will elect: a U.S. senator and representative, a state representative, two state board of education members, two University of Michigan regents, two Michigan State University trustees, two Wayne State University governors, a prosecuting attorney, county sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, register of deeds, drain commissioner and county commissioner.

On the non-partisan section of the ballot are candidates for several judicial posts, including the state supreme court, court of appeals, circuit court, probate and district court. A trustee for Wayne County Community College also will be picked.

Three state proposals — A, B and C — are highlighted with Proposal C, the so-called Voter's Choice amendment, easily being the most publicized and controversial.

Locally, a number of township races take center stage. In Canton and Van Buren Townships, there are hotly contested races for supervisor, clerk, treasurer and trustees. Incumbent James Poole (R) battles Harold Stein (D) for the Canton supervisor position while incumbent George Craven (D) takes on Lynne Hamilton (R) for the top elected post in Van Buren.

Write-in candidates should make things interesting in Huron and Sumpter Townships. Supervisor Jim Reeves and a slate of write-ins will challenge Clarence Hoffman Jr. (supervisor) and other victors from the primary election in Sumpter Township. Clerk Mary Lou Carey is a write-in challenger to Ralph Dugan in Huron Township's supervisor matchup.

Following is a list of major party candidates for various offices to be contested:

Senate — Carl Levin (D), Jack Lousma (R)

U.S. Rep 15th Dist. — William Ford (D), Gerald Carlson (R)

State Board of Education — Gumecondo Salas and John Watanen (D), Dorothy Beardmore, Cherry Jacobus (R)

U-M Regents — Marjorie Lansing and Robert Nederlander (D), Neal Nielson and Veronica Latta Smith (R)

MSU Trustees — June Kretschmer and Charles Vincent (D), Dean Pridgeon and Kathy Wilbur (R)

WSU Board of Governors — Winifred Fraser and Denise Lewis (D), Gary Artinian and George Bashara (R)

Sheriff — Robert Ficano (D), Robert Slaughter (R)

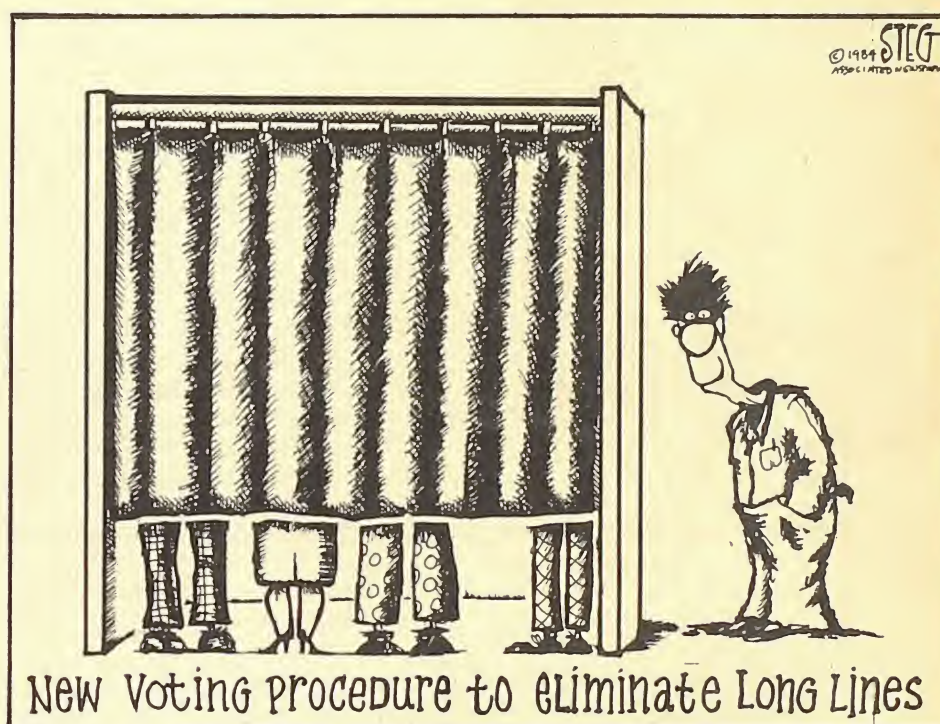

County Clerk — James Killeen (D), Henry Lauve (R)

Treasurer — Raymond Wojtowicz (D), Herbert Amthor (R)

Register of Deeds — Forest Youngblood (D), Lawrence Schweiger (R)

Drain Commissioner — Charles Youngblood (D), Scott Scarborough (R)

Supreme Court Justice (full term) — Robert Roddis, Thomas Giles Kavanagh, Dorothy Comstock Riley

Supreme Court Justice (fill vacancy until 1991) — David Raaflaub, Patricia Boyle, Robert Griffin

Supreme Court Justice (fill vacancy until 1989) — James Brickley, James Hathaway

34th District Court — John McDonald, Robert Greenstein

Local ballot proposals include:

Romulus — four proposed charter amendments that would: 1) extend terms of office from two to four years, 2) change system for electing mayor pro-tem, 3) allow city council to set amount paid to members of city boards or commissions and 4) raise the minimum amount required for bidding on city contracts.

Sumpter — voters will be asked to pay for the completion of the township's water lines.

Van Buren — four proposals request: 1) building a hydroelectric plant at French Landing Dam financed through the sale of bonds, 2) opening of township's park to non-residents, 3) one mill tax increase for police equipment and 4) one mill tax increase for fire equipment.

State Proposal A — seeks to allow the Legislature to approve or disapprove administrative rules.

State Proposal B — attempts to establish a natural resources trust fund and a board to administer it, to provide revenues for it from natural resource leases and existing funds. State Proposal C — the "Voter's Choice" amendment would:

- Prohibit changes in the base or rate of any state or local tax which would increase its revenue yield, or adoption of new taxes, unless approved by voters.

- Make void 90 days after the adoption of the amendment new or increase rate or base of state or local taxes since Dec. 31, 1981 unless/until approved by voters and new or increased license, user or permit fees since Dec. 31, 1981 unless/until approved by voters or 4/5 vote of legislative body,

- Limit nonresident local political subdivision income tax to 1/2 of percent, and

- Require tax proposals to state purpose, total anticipated amount and expiration date.

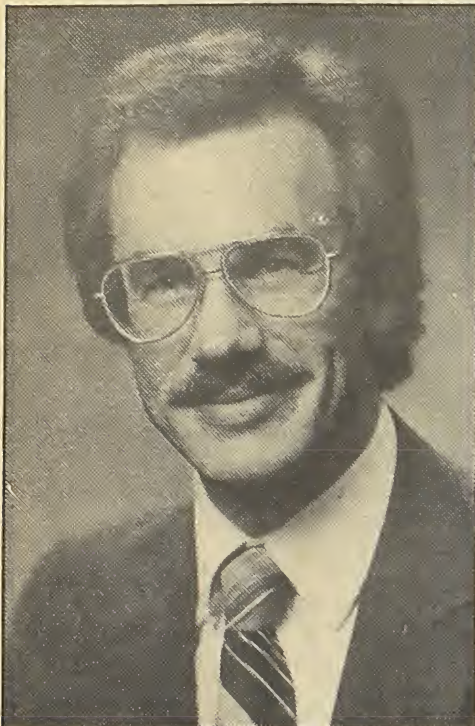

A comprehensive rundown and analysis of local races and issues is contained in this election guide and today's editions of The Associated Newspapers. A list of endorsements can be found on the editorial page.

37th State District

Gramlich versus Kosteva

The race for Michigan state representative in the 37th District between Democrat Jim Kosteva and Republican Georgia Gramlich may be closer than many observers expect it to be, due in part to the fact that both candidates have had most of their public exposure as the result of their battles to keep landfills out of Western Wayne County.

Kosteva, a resident of Canton Township and former full-time community planning consultant for the township, has been a member of the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee, which drew up the plans that — should they be accepted by the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) — will limit the number and placement of landfills in this area for years to come.

Despite his young 32 years, Kosteva has been working in public service positions for more than 10 years, making him a veteran of sorts.

Gramlich, who only garnished half of Kosteva's 1,632 vote tally in the August primary, is running as a Republican in a traditionally Democratic area. But she has invited the challenge, and a massive door-to-door campaign is expected to help her gain ground.

Gramlich sits on the Board of Directors of the Southern Michigan Environmental Alliance and on the legislative committee of the Michigan Toxic Dumpsite Coalition. She has been very active in the community, particularly on landfill and dumpsite issues.

It is expected that a large part of Gramlich's support will come from those actively involved in environmental affairs. She advocates the use of alternative methods of getting rid of waste, such as "encouraging recycling, resource recovery and modular incineration, all of which were neglected by the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee."

Likewise, Kosteva is in favor of looking at alternative ways of disposing of waste, and stated that "burning waste to create energy" may be the best way now available. He also expressed concern about "providing an immediate response to existing problem landfills."

Kosteva also is in favor of tax and education reform and says that education costs should be funded by sales and income tax, rather than from property taxes.

Gramlich has come out in favor of the "Voter's Choice" Amendment, claiming that she "doesn't believe in taxation without representation... such as the 38 percent raise in the income tax.

Georgia Gramlich

The 37th District encompasses part of Canton Township, Van Buren, Romulus, Wayne and Belleville.

Canton Trustee Candidates

Candidates for seats on the Canton Board of Trustees supplied biographical information and responded to the following questions asked by the League of Women Voters:

1. Does Canton have an identity crisis? If so, will the proposed Master Plan solve it?
2. Do you foresee any changes in Canton's form of government?
3. What do you see as Canton's largest problem? What is Canton's greatest asset?

Trustee candidate Paul Denski submitted information too late to be included in this issue of the Eagle.

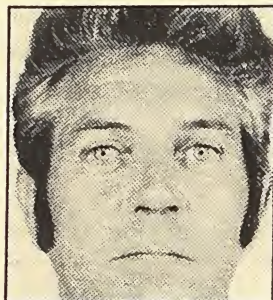

Loren Bennett

33 years old. Married, two daughters. Canton Township Resident 32 years attended Schoolcraft College from 1969-1971, past controller, Plymouth Hilton Hotel; past controller, Airport Sheraton Hotel, presently self-employed Realtor with New Heritage Real Estate. S.E.M.-C.O.G., Community Developments Subcommittee 1979-1981. Member and former officer of the Canton Jaycees, member of the Canton Board of Trustees, Canton Township Board representative to the Planning Commission. Active in the creation of the Canton Farmers Market. Member of the Economic Growth Committee.

Canton does not have an identity crisis. Canton has had a Master Plan for 20 years. It is updated every few years and does not have an impact on Canton's identity.

Canton's largest problem is the potential for landfills located in the southern part of the township. The location of these in Canton could cause problems in the future that we cannot even dream of today.

Canton's greatest asset is its people. A community is nothing without good people with a good direction. Canton has what it takes to be great.

James Bridenthal

47 years old, married with one son. Canton resident for 21 years. Owner and operator of Bridenthal Construction and Excavating. President of the United Democratic Club of Canton for past five years. Active fund raiser for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Yes, Canton does have an identity crisis. I do not believe the Master Plan, as it presently exists, will solve the identity crisis as it does not address itself to the entire community.

I most definitely see changes in Canton's form of government. Should I be elected, I hope to serve all of the residents of Canton through an "open door" policy of management. I will encourage dialogue from all people including residents and business owners.

Canton's largest problems are lack of industry and unequal tax assessments. Canton's largest asset is its people.

With regard to Canton's Fire and Police Departments, I would like to see purchase of state-of-the-art fire and police equipment to assure maximum department services and standards.

Stephen K. Larson

Age 39, married, two children. Appointed to the Canton Board in 1979, elected in 1980. Employed by Ford Motor Company, Management role, Purchasing and Supply Staff. Graduated from Kansas State University, Business Administration. Board of Directors, Wayne/Westland YMCA.

Any identity crisis which "may" exist will be overcome as the people who live in Canton develop a sense of pride in their community. Participation and volunteerism (as demonstrated at the Country Festival) builds community spirit and identity.

I support the continuation of the Township form of government. The taxes levied for Police, Fire and General Fund are 9.13 mills (December 1983) or approximately $275 per year per homeowner ($60,000 market value home). I believe the taxes would increase substantially if we became a city, with little improvement in services delivered to the community.

Canton's largest problem is its tax base which places too great a tax burden on the homeowners. Our greatest asset is our open spaces and undeveloped lands... provided we have the foresight to manage the Township's future growth.

Frank McMurray

45 years old. Married, four children. Canton resident for 21 years. State Farm agent for 20 years. Attended Henry Ford Community College (engineering, business administration). Officer of the Canton Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, PTO's, Holiday Park Homeowners Association. First chairman of Canton Recreation Council; member, Planning Commission, Oakwood Hospital Advisory Commission, Michigan Department of Commerce Small Business Council.

No, Canton does not have an identity crisis. What we need is to consider other ways to market what we already have developed to this point. I do not believe the proposed master plan has anything to do with identity as stated in the question.

Canton's government is composed of 4 trustees; a clerk, a treasurer and a supervisor. I do not see any changes in this form of government. If you want to talk about part-time elected officials or management type of government, then that's a different subject.

Canton's largest problem is taxes. There is a great imbalance between residential and commercial revenues.

The greatest asset in Canton is the untapped talents of the residents.

Robert Padgett

44 years old. Canton Township Trustee; Past Planning Commission Chairperson; Economic Development Corporation Director. Education: Finance degree with honors. Career: Data Processing, management. Founding member Economic Growth Strategy Committee. Affiliations: Historical Society, Jaycees, League of Women Voters, parents-teachers, others. One of Michigan's Five Outstanding Young Men, 1968. Over 30 years in Canton.

Some lack of identity, yes. Crisis? No. A 1965 Master Plan is currently undergoing a fourth revision. Master Plans facilitate, but do not create, identity. Special community features do. A central activity area ("downtown") would help.

I support a township manager form of government. It better reflects majority interests and is more efficient and effective. However, adoption is unlikely. City status is not presently advisable because increased tax burdens would result. Taxes are driving people out of Canton. A better proportioned tax base will help solve many problems.

Canton's greatest assets are hundreds, maybe thousands, of dedicated volunteers.

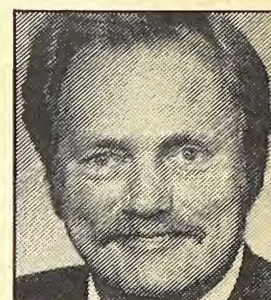

John Preniczky

42 years old, married, 2 children, Canton resident 11 years. M.B.A., Finance Major, B. Sc., Math Major, employed; Ford Motor 19 years, currently Supervisor, Systems Dept. Chairperson, Recreation Advisory Committee; secretary, Canton Township Building Authority; member, Golf Course Committee; member, Canton Township Board of Canvassers; chairperson, Canton Walk for Recreation.

A problem but not a crisis. The proposed Master Plan, which would encourage development of a central business district, would help to solve this problem.

I can see several advantages to changing to a Township Manager form of government and would support such a change. However, I would oppose changing from a township to a city government.

Problem — Lack of industrial and commercial development Asset — Its open space and rural areas. Solving the first, while preserving the second, is the major challenge facing the new Board in the next several years.

Edwin Rasmussen

37 years old. Married, five children. 1969 — Schoolcraft College, credit hours toward degree in law enforcement, 1971 Wayne County Sheriff's Police Academy. Presently Deputy, Wayne County Sheriff's Department. Past Jaycee vice-president. Past appointee to Canton Township Recreation Board. Presently Elected Political Action Chairman of Wayne County Sheriff's Local 502 AFL-CIO. Liaison between Local 502 and State AFL-CIO, Appointed Executive Director, Deputy Sheriff's Association of Michigan.

I personally feel Canton has an identity problem, but I would not characterize it as a crisis.

As for the proposed master plan, it is my understanding that plan is for the future of Canton and has not been approved by the board, therefore it would be premature to comment on it.

At this time I don't, but it would be interesting to see if the citizens of Canton would be in favor of a change. When I speak of change I mean from township status to a city status and from supervisor to a manager type of government. It should be left to all citizens by way of ballot vote.

Canton's largest problem is its door image in that it has not provided commercial and industrial development.

38th House District

Barns vs. Zaleski

First-term lawmaker Justine Barns will be squaring off against a newcomer to Westland politics, Edward Zaleski in voting Tuesday for the 38th District seat in the State House of Representatives.

Barns, a 16-year veteran of city politics, is the Democratic candidate in the general election, while Zaleski is campaigning on the Republican Party ticket.

Barns, 59, served on the Westland Charter Commission in 1964 and was elected to the City Council in 1966, serving on that legislative body until 1983, when she assumed her duties as a state representative. She also was elected to and served as vice-chairman of the Wayne County Charter Commission in 1980-81.

The incumbent candidate also has served on the Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority, the Westland Economic Development Advisory Council, Nankin Township Planning Commission, Michigan Municipal League and the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, of which she was an Executive Board member.

She is a life member of the Wayne Ford Civic League, a member of the Westland Business and Professional Women's Club, the Westland Chamber of Commerce and Westland League of Democratic Voters.

Married, she and her husband Jonathan are the parents of two sons, Duane, 38, and Scott, 29.

Barns has received numerous accolades for her service, including 1983 Legislator of the Year by the Michigan Association of Police Chiefs, the Westland Jaycee Auxiliary's Women of the Year for 1975, the Ford Motor Company's Citizen of the Year for 1967, a Muscular Dystrophy Association Public Service Award in 1980, SEMCOG's Ambassador Award in 1980 and a Michigan Municipal League Special Tribute in 1983.

Barns is seeking a second term in the State Legislature because she believes her background in local politics can be used to represent the Westland community and because the city needs "to have a strong voice for education and public safety" in the State Capitol.

"As an elected official for more than 20 years, I have had the opportunity to learn what Westland's needs are and how to fulfill these needs," she explained. "Being chosen as the Michigan 'Legislator of the Year' by the police chiefs has given me the confidence that I am doing a good job."

The lawmaker sees a reordering of the priorities of state government as a major issue in the election, pointing out that as a "strong advocate" of public education and public safety, she has worked "to have state aid increased for these areas."

"At the same time I have worked for cost containment of state spending," she added. "I am the chief sponsor of the revised retirement (80 and out) act, that will save Michigan more than $61 million in staff reductions."

Barns also has been instrumental in the passage of a double bunking law, that allows two prisoners per jail cell, legislation which will save Wayne County taxpayers more than $3 million annually, and a local lock-up proposal that gives local police departments control over their jails, which will save the City of Westland more than $900,000.

A 40-year resident of the Westland community, Barns received her GED certificate in 1970 at Fordson High School and has attended leadership training programs at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Zaleski, 59, is an agent/salesman for National Life Insurance and a retired police officer. A 7-year resident of Westland, he and his wife Josephine have three children, Edward Jr., 33, Deborah, 28, and Angela, 17.

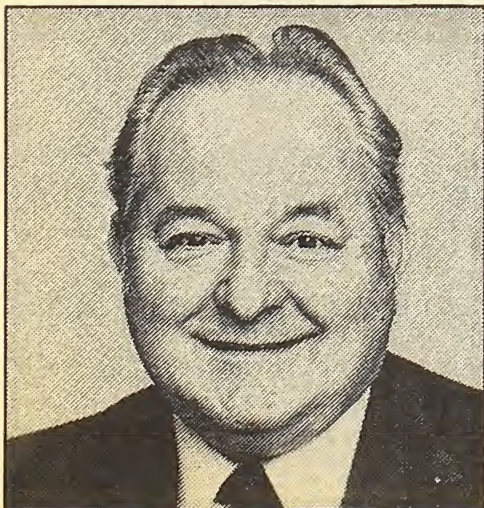

He is a 1942 graduate of Hamtramck High School and has attended Mt. Union College in Alliance, Ohio, and Wayne State University.

A life member of the Disabled American Veterans Post #113 and a 38-year member of the Polish Legion of American Veterans #1, he also has been active in the Boy Scouts of America, Little League baseball and the Grandale Civic Association in Detroit, of which he served as president.

He currently is president of the Republican Club of Westland.

He was the first recipient of the Purple Heart from the Purple Heart Association through Congress in 1960 for wounds suffered during a bank robbery in 1959 and has earned a police

Rerun in 15th

It's Ford vs. Carlson

The 15th District, House of Representative race, is a rerun of two years ago: incumbent William D. Ford, a Democrat of Taylor is being challenged by Gerald R. Carlson, a political science major who has a B.A. from the University of Michigan.

Ford, a veteran legislator who received his bachelor's and juris doctorate from the University of Denver, soundly defeated Carlson two years ago and believes that "jobs and reducing the phenomenal national debt are among his highest priorities."

"I have taken a number of steps to reduce unemployment throughout the United States and in Michigan specifically," Ford said. "And I will continue to work toward that goal. Every American should have the right of employment."

Ford attacked the Reagan Administration for providing tax loopholes that benefit the rich at the cost of the middle and low income families.

"I have also supported the Fair

Practices in Automotive Products Act, also known as the "local content" bill and, in fact, I was the sponsor of the bill and have made it one of my top legislative priorities."

Ford, 57, is married and has four children.

Carlson has been associated with white supremacy groups and has in the past listed a number of problems that legislators have failed to deal with including violence in the streets, lack of law enforcement and solutions to lower taxes and the enforcement of basic Constitutional rights.

"I believe in equal rights for white Americans," Carlson said, "and my opponent has voted for the Martin Luther King Holiday Bill and amnesty for illegal aliens along with cross district busing which has cost taxpayers millions of dollars."

Carlson defeated Glen Kasse for the Republican Party's nomination for the 15th district.

Judge Stone faces Rogalle

He practiced law in Detroit for two years prior to opening his office in Romulus in 1965. A trial attorney, Rogalle has participated in literally thousands of cases, with varying levels of complexity.

Rogalle is affiliated with the State of Michigan, the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association, American Trial Lawyers Association, Advocates Bar Association, Catholic Lawyers Association, and the Suburban Bar Association, having served as President in 1973-1974. He has served as special counsel for the State Bar of Michigan Grievance Panel and as Chairman for LAW-PAC for the State Bar of Michigan. He is currently serving on the panel of arbitrators for the American Arbitration Association.

Felix Rogalle resides in Huron Township with his wife, Rosemary, and his three daughters, Anne, Kara and Diana.

citation for civilian law enforcement.

Zaleski is a veteran of the U.S. Army Air Force, having served in it from 1943 to 1946 in the South Pacific and achieving the rank of sergeant.

His only other bid for office was for a state representative's post in 1970.

He is seeking the 38th District seat because he "is not satisfied with the present representative's (Barns) campaign promises," which he feels "are made to be kept."

"I think I can better serve the voters in District 38 because of my experience, common sense, honesty and integrity," he added.

He feels qualified for the position because he is "a loyal, patriotic American with an impeccable record as a serviceman, police officer, father and husband" and because he is "hard working and dedicated."

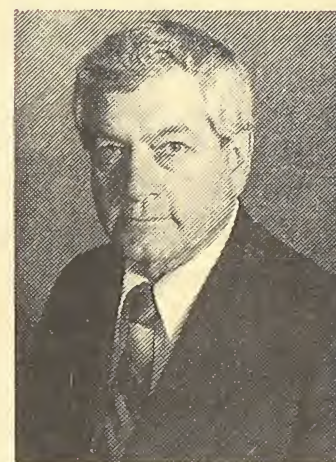

Issues in the campaign, according to the candidate, are taxes, schools, senior citizens' benefits, overspending by the present state administration and the elimination of drunk drivers through higher penalties.

Who'll lead Van Buren: Democrats...

When he was elected to office in 1982, Van Buren Township supervisor George Craven inherited a township laden with controversy and scandal. The township voters had ousted five board members from office and received the resignation of a police commander.

Two years later, Craven has brought confidence back to the township. His low profile and soft-spoken manner has restored a "positive feeling about our township."

"I believe that this administration and this board have restored confidence in government," said Craven.

Craven, 56, is an architect who believes that he has fulfilled his campaign promises of two years ago. He has plans for the township's future, namely, explore paving township roads where residents deem necessary and seeing the French Landing Dam project become a reality.

"I am not looking for a mandate from the people," Craven says, "because an elected official with a mandate can get complacent. I do believe that our programs are working, and that we have proven that Van Buren can thrive."

Craven also said his administration was instrumental from preventing Berlinn & Ferro from dumping toxic waste in Van Buren. He would continue to guard against such intrusions.

"The next four years are very important to each and every one of us," Craven concludes, "and working together we can make the quality of life better in Van Buren."

Campaigning on her record, incumbent Donna Hall is asking voters to return her to the township treasurer's office.

"I have reorganized our investment program, maximizing the yield on our investments," said Hall who has served as treasurer since 1982 and was elected in 1978 as a trustee. "Our investments have proven to be financially sound and in the words of a state auditor, our township's investment program has been 'one of the best in the state'." I believe that says a lot."

Hall, 34, has served as the township community development and grants coordinator and also served as the Economic Development Corporation as vice chairwoman.

She has been instrumental in bringing to the forefront the French Landing Dam project, hoping to see the dam produce hydroelectricity for the area and township. She strongly believes that the project will financially benefit the township and that the profits earned from the production of electricity will help finance a wide range of local programs.

Hall also was a catalyst for administering grants programs for the Huron River Sanitary Sewer, paving of Old Tyler Road to allow access to the new Industrial Park and helping to bring the Coca Cola Bottlers' district plant to the township. During her tenure the Thunderline Corporation moved to Van Buren and Huron Valley Steel completed a $2.5 million expansion.

Active in local and state politics, Shirley Carnahan is seeking the office of township clerk. Although she has worked on the campaigns of such notables as Cong. William Ford, House Speaker Gary Owen, Sen. William Faust and Sen. Carl Levin, her bid for the township clerk's office is her first try for elected office.

"I believe I have a wealth of experience to offer our township after serving on the political campaigns of many prominent legislators," said the 51-year-old Carnahan who is a lifetime township resident.

"There is much we can do if we work together to reach mutual goals," she added.

A member of the Van Buren Democratic and the Tri-County Democratic Clubs, Carnahan is pursuing a liberal arts degree at Wayne County Community College. She has attended the University of Michigan and Madonna College.

The sister of the former supervisor of the township, Pat Cullin, Carnahan is presently the manager of a Belleville apartment complex.

"I have raised my children here in this township," says Carnahan, "and I believe that this is a viable community to live in. But, if we stand still, we will become stagnated. New programs must be introduced to keep in step with progress."

"And I believe I can help formulate those programs for the good of our community."

Jerry Maton, the "dean" of the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees, has served the community intermittently as a trustee since 1958 and in that span of 22 years has watched Van Buren develop from a rustic community to one of the fastest growing communities in Wayne County.

Maton, 61, feels that there is much work ahead for the board and the citizens of the township. And ranking high in the priority is "cleaning up landfills so that they don't endanger the welfare, safety and health of our residents."

Also of primary concern is "the continuing of monitoring the Huron River", one of the natural beauties of the township.

Employed in the marketing department of the Detroit Edison Company, Maton serves as vice-president of the Huron River Watershed Council. He has also served on the Township Zoning Board of Appeals, the Planning Commission, and the Water & Sewer Commission.

Married to Irene, the Matons have three children.

One of Maton's favorite projects is to raise vegetables during the summer and then sell them during the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy fund drive. Over the years, Maton's produces have raised approximately $9,000 for the foundation.

"I do it to help Jerry's kids," Maton says. "If you could see the expression on some of those kids' faces, you'd do it too."

Marilyn Montgomery has always had her finger on the pulse of Van Buren Township. Elected as a member of the Board of Trustees in 1982, Mrs. Montgomery is seeking reelection "to continue with the programs we have started."

Describing herself as a "homemaker and trustee", Montgomery brings a wide range of credentials to the board. First elected to the board in 1982, she has previously served for six years on the Water and Sewer Commission. She has been active on the Friends of the Fred C. Fischer Library and on the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club.

The mother of two children and a longtime resident of the township, Montgomery is married to husband, George, who has served as Van Buren Township's police chief.

Montgomery was recently appointed to the Southeast Michigan Council of Government's Community and Economic Development Committee as an advisor.

She lists roads and landfills as the two major issues in the election and has concerns over public services.

"I also believe there should be a firm commitment by our township to our seniors in way of offering them a wide range of programs," Montgomery said. "Also, better recognition of talents, services or beautification of the township on the part of the residents and the administration should be an integral part of this commitment."

A member of the Van Buren Township Planning Commission and the Township Zoning Board of Appeals, Fonie Butler is making his first bid for a seat on the township board of trustees.

Stressing that he will emphasize the quality of any development in the township, Butler says "that throughout the many years I have been involved in many community activities and projects. I believe we can make Van Buren a quality place to live in."

Butler, 47, explained "quality of community life as one of the major issues of the campaign."

Coordinator of Community Education for the Van Buren public schools, Butler is a member of the Executive Board of the Van Buren Education Association and a former member of the Strawberry Festival Committee.

A resident of Van Buren for the past 16 years, Butler and his wife, Sandra, are the parents of three children.

Butler also is a member of the September Days Senior Citizens Board; Fred Fischer Friends of the Library Board; and a member of the Executive Board of the Van Buren Democratic Club.

"We need to promote our community to developers," Butler says, "and there are many ways we can do this. The recent approval of the school millage shows that people do care about the quality of life and education."

Butler says more citizens should get involved in township projects.

In quest of her first elected position in the township, Donna Clark views the environment and recreation as "most urgent concerns of this the community."

"We must constantly be in touch with those regulatory agencies required to monitor the landfill and the lake," says Clark, who is a teacher's aide in the Van Buren Community School District.

Clark says that nauseous odors emitting from the local landfill have been a consistent source of irritation to many residents. A former member of the Recreation Commission, Clark also pointed out the vital importance of the parks to the community and the township's commitment to the youth to have a viable recreation program.

The 44-year-old Van Buren native has a long list of community service projects she participates in, and among the many include district training officer for the Boy Scouts, vice president of the Belleville Band Boosters and treasurer for the Van Buren Belleville Democratic Club.

Married to Clyde R. Clark Jr., Clark is the mother of three. Her past employment includes a spell as township park manager. She also served as the Van Buren unit of the Michigan Education Support Personnel Association's vice president and, for her achievements as an active volunteer in the Boy Scouts of America she was awarded the Silver Beaver Award.

Helen "Lynn" Foster

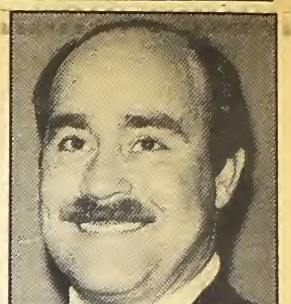

George Heifner

Fred Hudson

Eileen Kuchta

Daniel O'Brien

...or the Republican challengers?

A life-long resident of Van Buren, 55-year-old R. Lynne Hamilton is seeking the highest elected office Van Buren Township has to offer, that of supervisor.

Hamilton is a graduate of the Van Buren School system and Eastern Michigan University. He is married to Lois and the Hamiltons have two children: David and Lisa.

"I am confident that my past experience as a member of the board of education and as president of the school board will add to my ability to conduct the activities of township supervisor. I will also bring to the township my many years experience as a member of the Belleville City Council."

Hamilton is the owner of a third generation local business, the Hamilton Hardware Company, which he operates with his son, David. He feels, however, that his son now has the knowledge to operate the store and that he can become actively involved in the supervision of the Township of Van Buren.

Hamilton's local affiliations and activities include: the Belleville United Methodist Church, the Belleville Rotary Club, the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, the Michigan Retail Hardware Association and the Belleville Area Republican Club.

Hamilton has served six years in the Michigan Air National Guard and was on active duty during the Korean War.

Delphine Dudick is the incumbent Van Buren Township clerk who was elected to that office in 1982. During her two-year tenure as clerk she has advocated and practiced an "Open Door" policy.

Dudick, 48, is a 10-year resident of Van Buren Township and is a graduate of Huron High School in New Boston.

"If re-elected I will continue my 'Open Door' policy as clerk," Dudick said, "and I will strive for continued cost reductions everywhere it is possible."

Dudick was elected as clerk in 1982 and immediately set about reducing the cost of government. She has reduced the clerk's office staff to three, and has also reduced the operating expenses in the office.

Prior to her election, Dudick served in the appointed position of deputy clerk (1979-82). She also has been the Elections Clerk (1976-79) and presently has the additional township duties as Insurance Risk Manager.

"As such, I was instrumental in reducing our governmental insurance costs by almost 30 percent," Dudick said.

The Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority also recognized Dudick's organizational and business acuity and elected her to the executive board of the MMRMA. She presently serves as the board's secretary.

Married to John, the Dudicks have three children: Michael, Daniel and John D.

Before serving as clerk, Dudick was employed for 12 years at the National Bank of Detroit.

Urging "accountability" in the township treasurer's department, 38-year-old Helen "Lynn" Foster is seeking the position of treasurer in the Nov. 6 election.

"I feel that Van Buren Township needs an accountable and responsible team of officers working together toward fiscal reform and responsibility," said Foster. "The officers must be responsible to the needs of the taxpayer and fully communicative with surrounding communities."

Foster is a 12-year resident of Van Buren Township. She graduated from Detroit's Holy Redeemer High School, with post-graduate studies at Western Michigan and Eastern Michigan Universities.

Married to "Pete", the Fosters have two children — Kristen and Katie.

The Fosters are members of the St. Anthony's Church and Helen has been a member of the St. Anthony School Board (vice-president from 1979 to 1983) Other activities include Girl Scouting, membership on St. Anthony's Scholarship Committee, National and Michigan Education Associations and the Belleville Area Republican Club.

The candidate's 15-year work history includes: teaching, office manager, insurance analyst and tutoring. She is experienced with accounting systems, internal controls, management and communication skills.

"One of my goals is to establish acceptable accounting procedures in the township treasurer's office."

"I believe that this township is presently spending too much money in the wrong places. We should get more for our money."

These are the words of George Heifner, Jr., who is seeking an office of township trustee.

Heifner, 57, is a 15 year resident of the township. He was born in Cleveland, Tennessee and attended high school in Ecorse and graduated while in the Armed Services. He later attended Michigan Technological Institute, Electronics Institute and various military management schools. He has taken college courses in fire technology, fire and police administration.

Married to Maxine, the Heifners have five children: Sandy, David, Debra, Mark and Terrance.

Heifner is employed by Diversitec in New Hudson as manager of maintenance and security. Prior to this position, he was a general foreman for a major electrical contractor.

A retired Sergeant Major from the U.S. Army Reserve after 29 years service with the U.S. Marine Corps and the U.S. Army Reserve, Heifner was wounded while on duty with the Marines in World War II. He also served during the Korean War.

Heifner says he can offer an excellent cross section of experience in township government. He has served as an interim trustee, two terms as constable, chairman of the Water & Sewer Commission, chairman of the police, Fire and Safety Commission and director of the Emergency Preparedness Program.

Seeking one of four available seats on the Van Buren Township Board as a trustee is Fred Hudson, an employee of the Detroit Edison Company.

Hudson is a 15 year resident of the township and a graduate of Plainwell High School, in Plainwell, and Lake Michigan College. He has a science degree with a major in electronics.

Married to Marilyn, the Hudsons have two children: Amy and David.

"I have grave concerns about the manner in which the township presently handles the problems of toxic waste," Hudson said. "I also question the township plans for the French Landing Dam where we propose to produce hydro-electricity and sell it to Edison."

"I don't like the way all of this has been proposed to our residents," Hudson stated.

Hudson is a field representative in the electrical systems department of Detroit Edison. He oversees construction projects; small as local facilities and as large as the Monroe Plant.

Hudson served four years (1964-68) with the U.S. Army Intelligence Agency and served in the Vietnam War. His local and club affiliations include the Engineering Society of Detroit, Michigan Heart Association, American Red Cross, Belleville Kiwanis Club, the Belleville Area Republican Club and the 15th District Republican Club.

"I feel that my role in this township, if elected, will be as a working link between the taxpayers and their elected govern-

Eileen Kuchta believes that it's time to "Quit complaining about how the local government is run and try to do something about it."

Kuchta, 49, is a life-time resident of the township and a graduate of the Van Buren School system. She has taken courses at Wayne County Community College.

Married to Steve, Jr., the Kuchtas have three children: Alisa, Stephen III and John.

Eileen Kuchta states that she has over 30 successful years in the management of her household and that she administratively assists her husband in conducting their insurance business. She also has office experience with the Ford Motor Company.

"Since my family has grown up and left the household, I feel that I now have time to devote to local government and that's one of the reasons why I have decided to seek a trusteeship," Kuchta said. She also expressed "great concern about the failure of the present administration in communicating with their employers ... the Van Buren Township taxpayers."

"There is a need to be able to respond to the needs of each and every homemaker, not just to a select group with political ties to the Van Buren Township Democratic Party," Kuchta concludes.

Kuchta's local activities include secretary of the Belleville Area Republican Club, the 15th District Republican District and the 15th District Republican Women's Club.

Concerns about the illegal use of drugs among the teen-age community and the present administration's approach to the toxic waste problems have prompted Daniel O'Brien to seek election to the Van Buren Township Board of Trustees.

O'Brien is employed as a Certified Physician's assistant at the Belleville Medical Clinic in Belleville. He specializes in family practice, including internal medicine, surgery, pediatrics, OB-GYN and substance abuse.

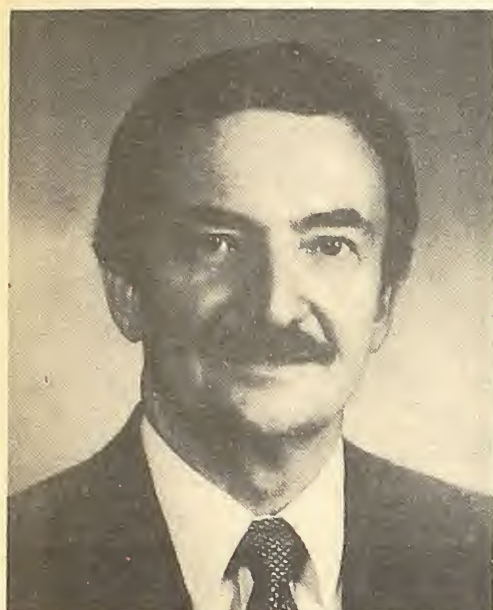

"I would like to see a bike and walking path to tie the western part of the township with the Belleville Business District, and the U.S. I-275 bike path system," O'Brien said. "And I also am concerned about the toxic waste, health and welfare and safety of our citizens."

A Green Beret Medical Specialist during the Vietnam Crisis, O'Brien earned a ROTC Commission while at Michigan State. He was awarded an Army Commendation Medal with a Oak Leaf Cluster, Army Parachute Badge and German Army Parachute Badge. He is presently a First Lieutenant in the Medical Corps.

Single, O'Brien is a four-year resident of the township. His parents are Judge and Mrs. John P. O'Brien of Mason. (The senior O'Brien serves as the 55th District Judge in Mason).

O'Brien attended Mason High and upon graduation attended Michigan State University, Lansing Community College, and Western Michigan University. He majored in medicine.
